SITUATION IN SONORA IS GRAVE

Government Sending 10,000
Seasoned Troops Into
Rebellious State

AMERICANS ARE IN DANGER Simultaneous Attack Expected on Border Towns Both Sides Prepared

EL PASO, Tex., March 6.—With the rebels of Chihuahua declaring neutrality toward the Sonora revolt, the situation in the western border state today awaited the entrance of federal troops.

Rallying under the Constitutional banner and proclaiming states rights, the new rebels last night not only destroyed the railway north and south of Hermosillo, but cut all telegraph wires, thus enforcing the most effective news censorship from the state capital.

Following the decision of the state authorities to denounce Huerta's national government, groups of state rebels tonight threaten the posts of Agua Prieta and Nogales, on the Arizona border.

Fear is felt by the large American colony at Empalme, near Guaymas, that Mexican gunboats will shell the California Gulf port in retaliation to landing Huerta soldiers to move against Hermosillo.

No conflict between the new federal forces already in the state and the new state rebels has been reported.

Rush Troops to North

MEXICO CITY, March 6.—Ten thousand seasoned troops are to be placed under command of Brigadier General Samuel Garcia Cuellar, the former chief of President Porfirio Diaz's staff, early in the Madro revolution, who has been ordered to move against the rebels at the earliest date.

Two thousand men in addition to those already dispatched are being prepared to proceed to Coahuila to serve against the rebels under Venustiano Carranza. According to the latest information reaching the government, Carranza now has 5,000 men and six divisions. His forces are spread over a large territory, from Tampico to San Luis Potosi, which has been seized by 300 of his men, throughout the eastern half of Coahuila.

A portion of his forces have taken possession of La Bahia ranch, the property of General Trevino, now governor of the state of Nuevo Leon. The government is moving troops into Monterrey and Mesquite, where the main body of the Carrancistas are said to be, and is daily expediting reports of engagements at those points.

Orozco Holding Out

EL PASO, Tex., March 6.—The matter does not directly interest me, said General Pascual Orozco, Jr., today when news reached his camp below Juarez of the Sonora uprising against Carranza. The former rebel commander-in-chief has received no request from the provisional president to take the field against the Sonora state troops.

It was assumed that any such request would meet with refusal by nearly 4,000 troops under Orozco's control.

Orozco again made clear his stand toward the provisional government at Mexico City, declaring that he only accepted Carranza in event that the latter grant promises of the Madro revolution will be carried out.

As to beginning any combat between the two border states of Chihuahua and Sonora, the rebels, it was said, will raise no objection, and in relation to his own position.

DR. FRIEDMANN TREATS
FIRST CASES

Results of Application Will
Be Eagerly Awaited by
Medical World

N. March 6.—The first case in America of Dr. Friedrich Friedmann's treatment, while the victim Berlin physician declared is a cure for tuberculosis, was given by Dr. Friedmann himself today, in the presence of physicians representing the city, the state and the staffs of hospitals of several cities.

Three patients, two men and a woman, were selected by Dr. Friedmann from 30 tuberculosis sufferers gathered from all parts of the city, all hopeful that they would receive treatment. The woman has been ill three years. Here is a chronic case of the disease of the three chosen. The two men have tuberculosis of the lungs. Their cases are not beyond the incipient stage, according to the authorities of the People's hospital, the institution where the demonstration was held. Each of the men patients had been showing improvement and gaining weight since beginning several months ago, the best recognized tuberculosis treatment of the day, it was stated.

Selects Own Patients

Physicians who were present brought forward a dozen persons suffering with the disease in all its stages. The medical history of each was available for Dr. Friedmann's use. Statistics had been prepared at his request. The Berlin physician declined to treat any of these cases, however, but made his own selection.

Each of the three who were treated received double injections in the muscle and in the vein. Dr. Friedmann explained to those about him that the first reaction might be expected to be observed after seven days. The patients went to their homes with instructions to return in two weeks hence. Dr. Friedmann promised to call them again at that time. Meanwhile, the medical board at the hospital will have the three under constant observation, and as soon as results are observed, it was announced, a statement would be issued.

Moses Greenbaum, president of the People's hospital, discussing tonight Dr. Friedmann's demonstration, said that the opinion of physicians who were present was that criticism or praise of the culture and of Dr. Friedmann's methods should be withheld until the results of the treatment were known. He said that the Berlin physician, in the demonstration, appeared to be a little bit of a humbug. He used an ordinary hypodermic needle and made the inoculation in the ordinary manner familiar to physicians.

CONGRESSIONAL PARTY LEAVES FOR PANAMA

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Chairman Baggett of the house naval affairs committee headed a party of members of that committee and their wives and daughters, which left here today for Panama on the yacht Mayflower and Dolphin. The party will stop at Guantanamo, Cuba, will spend a week at Panama, and on the return trip make stops at Key West and Charleston.

TWO MEMBERS OF ALI FN GANG TO DIE MARCH 28

RICHMOND, Va., March 6.—Floyd Allen, leader of the outlaw band in Carroll county, and his son, Claude Swanson Allen, will be executed in the state penitentiary March 28, for their part in the Hillsville worst house murder, March 14, 1912. Governor Mann refused tonight to commute the sentences to life imprisonment. The prisoners were to have died tomorrow, but the governor granted a respite yesterday of three weeks.

MORTON IMPROVED

NEW YORK, March 6.—A slight improvement in the condition of Levi P. Morton was announced tonight. Mr. Morton is suffering from hardening of the arteries.

DR. P. F. GILDEA DIES AT CORONADO BEACH

Prominent Colorado Springs
Physician Succumbs to Acute Heart Disease

Dr. Patrick F. Gildea, prominent Colorado Springs physician, and for 20 years a resident of the city, died yesterday afternoon at Coronado, Cal., according to a telegram received last night by Dr. William V. Mullin. Acute heart disease was the cause of his death. The body will be brought to this city, but no definite funeral arrangements have been made.

Dr. Gildea was taken ill about two months ago, and was advised to go to a lower altitude. Six weeks ago he went to Coronado, accompanied by Mrs. Gildea and her father, P. F. O'Brien. Soon after his arrival there he was taken seriously ill, and Dr. Mullin of this city summoned. Dr. Mullin spent several days with him, but, as the invalid showed marked improvement, he returned to this city. Dr. Gildea is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary F. Gildea, and three children. The family residence is at 2220 North Cascade avenue.

Dr. Gildea came to Colorado Springs in 1893 from Worcester, Mass. He has taken a prominent part in the medical life of the city, having held a number of positions with the El Paso County Medical society. He was a member of the local lodge of Elks.

RYAN AGAIN HEADS IRON WORKERS ASSN.

New Board and Set of Officials
Chosen — Meeting Held
Behind Closed Doors

INDIANAPOLIS, March 6.—Frank M. Ryan of Chicago, one of the labor leaders convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy" trials here, was re-elected president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers at its session here today.

Other officers elected at the session, which was held behind closed doors, were:

Harry Jones of New York, secretary-treasurer, succeeding Herbert S. Hockins, who is now serving six years in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for his part in the dynamite conspiracy; James B. McClory of Cleveland, who has been acting secretary-treasurer, first vice president, and P. J. Morris of St. Louis, second vice president.

The executive board will be composed of: Patrick Vaughn, San Francisco; John A. Johnson, Newark, N. J.; D. J. O'Shea, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; and Frank McKinley of Globe, Ariz.

Ryan was opposed for reelection by J. B. Barnes of San Francisco, but the vote was not announced.

The convention adopted a resolution to raise $50,000 with which to care for the families of the men convicted for conspiracy in the dynamite trials, and also voted to raise whatever amount of money is needed to defend the convicted men in case a new trial is granted them. The families of all the men will be cared for until after the cases have been decided finally.

The next annual meeting will be held in Peoria, Ill., in September, 1914. It was decided before the convention was adjourned.

PRES. WILSON IS KEPT VERY BUSY

AMBASSADORSHIP

Democratic Leaders Confer
With New President on National Affairs

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Wilson performed much of the routine duties that go with the presidency today. He met his cabinet for its first official session, received the congratulations of some of the kings and emperors of the world and replied to them; talked with several men mentioned repeatedly for diplomatic posts; shook hands with 320 east room visitors; was consulted about the legislative program of the Democratic congress; and suffered his action to his word by declining to interest himself in patronage matters until one of his official family had been seen.

The day lacked some of the rush of yesterday, but it was busy enough to keep the president on the jump most of the time, and to force Secretary Taft to spend many crowded minutes out in the corridors of the executive office disposing of callers at a rapid-fire rate.

Takes Another Auto Ride

The president quit work promptly at 4 o'clock and went for an automobile ride with Mrs. Wilson. Tonight he saw William McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Joseph E. Davies, its secretary. Both men have figured prominently as possible diplomatic appointees. They were closeted with the president in

JANINA TAKEN BY GREEK ARMY

Fierce Bombardment Lasts for Two Days and Nights.

32,000 TURKS CAPTURED Surrender Comes at End of Three-Month Siege—Ser- vians Aided Captors

ATHENS, Greece, March 6.—The Turkish fortress of Janina, the key to the possession of the province of Epirus, with its garrison of 32,000 men, surrendered to the Greek army today, after a defense which forms one of the most brilliant episodes of the Balkan war.

The surrender was preceded by a fierce bombardment, lasting without cessation for two days and two nights. Every available gun, including a number of heavy howitzers lent by the Serbian artillery, was brought to bear on the fortress defending the beleaguered city.

Is Great Victory.

LONDON, March 6.—The fall of Janina to the Greek arms, after more than three months' gallant defense by Essad Pasha, is expected to have the effect of expediting peace negotiations. It will add at the same time to the complexities arising after the war settlement, as Janina is one of the cities which it has been claimed, would be included in the new autonomous Albania.

There has been no change in the diplomatic situation.

The reply of the allies with regard to mediation by the powers still is awaited, and the orders for demobilization by Austria and Russia have not been issued.

No confirmation has been received of the reported shelling by a Turkish cruiser of three Greek transports, and it is emphatically denied in Athens.

A Serbian dispatch published in Montenegro, in the recent fighting, had a narrow escape from capture by the Turks, who surrounded and afterwards killed every man of the Serbian battalion which went to the prince's rescue.

Greeks Jubilant

ATHENS, March 6.—Premier Venizelos announced the victory in the chamber of deputies. All the leaders of the opposition spoke, congratulating the crown prince and his army on the brilliant achievement.

Telegrams were dispatched to the crown prince in behalf of the chamber

DR. WEBB CONDUCTING SERIES BLOOD TESTS

To determine the average number of white corpuscles in the blood of Colorado Springs men and their relative susceptibility to tuberculosis, Dr. Gerald B. Webb is conducting an extensive experiment that promises to be of great interest to the medical fraternity, especially of this region. The tests are being made by the doctor and his assistants at the Colorado college biological laboratory, and include a number of college men, among which are athletes as well as more sedentary students.

The purpose of the experiment is to determine the relative resisting power to tuberculosis in this region compared with that of other altitudes. No results have been given out, and it will be some time before the tests are completed. The results of the experiment will be read before the El Paso County Medical society.

DESIDENT WIFE TAKES LAUDANUM; SERIOUSLY ILL

Because she is unable to effect a reconciliation with her husband, Mrs. G. Helene, who came here three days ago from Kansas City, tried to commit suicide yesterday afternoon at the Easton, 120 South Nevada avenue, by taking laudanum. The woman was taken to St. Francis hospital, where her condition was reported critical last night.

Mystery surrounds the woman's real identity. She gave the name of Mrs. Birdie Gordon at the rooming house, and told the proprietor, Mrs. Josephine Faulkner, that she was waiting for her husband. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Faulkner was called to the lobby by the woman's moans and found her nearly unconscious. Physicians were summoned and she was taken to the hospital.

In moments of consciousness the woman told an incoherent tale of the attempts to effect a reconciliation with her husband. She stated that she had taken the laudanum on the street and had hoped to die there, but the poison did not take effect until she reached the rooming house.

She has a brother by the name of Gordon in Colorado Springs. She is about 28 years old.

ROOSEVELT OPPOSES LORIMER COALITION

Warns Illinois Progressives of Evils Attending Such Undesirable Result

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Inquiries at the White house today regarding the Illinois senatorial situation brought the information that President Wilson had listened to the proposals of Governor Dunne, but had not committed himself. The Illinois governor has explained his position as favoring the election of J. Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, for the long term, and Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican, for the short term. Both men received the primary nominations of their respective parties.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The Progressive party must not permit itself to be lured from Illinois by a combination of Roosevelt made in a letter received from him today by P. F. Harris, chairman of the state central committee of the Progressive party of Illinois. The letter was a vehement protest against any coalition between the new party members of the legislature and either the "Lorimer Republicans" or the "Lorimer Democrats." In order to elect a Progressive senator from Illinois.

Mr. Roosevelt declared he believed that the election of a Progressive senator from Illinois by a combination with the "Lorimer Republicans" and "Lorimer Democrats," or either would be a serious blow to the Progressive party, and that he personally could not help feeling that the man who accepted an election to the senate "at such hands" would thereby rule himself out of the Progressive party.

"The Republicans in the Illinois legislature," the letter says, "already have disgraced themselves in this session by their alliance with the Lorimer Democrats. I do not see how any man calling himself a Progressive now can join or profit by such a coalition."

TUBERCULAR BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

GOES TO SENATE FOR
FINAL ACTION

Radical Changes for Rural Schools Are Proposed in Mrs. Robinson's Bill

By R. M. MCCLINTOCK.

DENVER, March 6.—The bill known as the antitubercular bill passed the house of representatives this morning by a vote of 45 to 13. It provides for the registration of all tuberculars, and for the protection of the public against infection. Colorado Springs has such regulations in force now, this bill simply does for the whole state what Colorado Springs, Pueblo and other cities have done to protect themselves against the spread of the disease.

Despite the fact that there was an organized lobby against the bill, the Christian Scientists appealing to members by telegraph to defeat it, there was a large majority in its favor. Every Progressive in the house voted for the bill. The negative votes were cast by Curtis, Elmore, Ferguson, French, Gates (Montezuma), Gilbert, Goss, Philp, Richards, Schaeffer, Sweet, Tait, Vogt and Weaver.

The bill has already been passed by the senate, but goes back there for final action, inasmuch as the house adopted certain slight amendments.

School Changes Proposed.

In committee of the whole, this morning, the senate began consideration of Senator-elect Eugene Robinson's new school bill. The bill provides for an entire revolution in the rural schools of the state. In the first place, provision is made for the appointment of county boards of education, to be elected by all the voters living in second and third-class school districts. The county boards are composed of four elected members, together with the county superintendent, ex officio. The four members must all be residents of second and third-class districts.

But the bill goes farther than that. It provides for a minimum wage of $25 for school teachers. It makes it compulsory for all school districts paying less than those wages to raise wages to that amount. It, with a 10-mill levy, any school district finds itself unable to raise by taxation the necessary amount to pay its teachers the minimum wage, then the state superintendent of public instruction shall apportion among those districts funds from the general school fund to an amount not to exceed one-fifth of the annual income from this fund.

Nonpartisan Election Proposed.

The bill provides that members of the county school boards shall be chosen at a nonpartisan election held on the first Monday in May of each year, each member to serve one year. Senator Hayden objected that the method of election provided in the bill was needlessly expensive, whereupon Mrs. Robinson announced that she would be glad to receive consideration of the bill for one day, and consult with Senator Hayden regarding changes.

Mrs. Robinson is an ardent champion of the principle embodied in the bill. She was armed with statistics showing the pitifully small salaries paid teachers in some districts. In

DARROW CASE GOES TO JURY

DEFER DELIBERATIONS
UNTIL TODAY

Accused Lawyer Makes Impassioned Plea for Acquittal on Charges

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—The case of Clarence S. Darrow, the McNamara attorney charged with the bribery of Robert Bain, a sworn juror in the trial of the dynamiters in November, 1911, was given to the jury at 8:05 o'clock tonight.

At 9:55 o'clock the jury sent word to Judge Conley that its members were too tired to deliberate, and were going to bed. Judge Conley thereupon adjourned court until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—Unhappily of the plea of one of the jurors in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for a bribe to induce Superior Judge Conley to interrupt the closing argument of Assistant District Attorney Ford late today to declare a recess until 1 o'clock tonight. Judge Conley announced that he would deliver the charge to the jury when the prosecutor had finished.

Darrow's Counsel Protest.

During his long closing address, Ford several times stirred Darrow's counsel to protest by intimation that "there was something wrong" about the first trial of the labor lawyer, which resulted in an acquittal. A half dozen members of the former jury were present, and when the evening recess was declared they appeared in Judge Conley's court against what they designated as "insinuations of crookedness" by Ford.

Ford's criticism was made in connection with a statement of concurrence in Darrow's argument that if Darrow were guilty of the bribery of Juror Lockwood, he was guilty also of bribing Juror Bain, and if innocent of corrupting Lockwood he was likewise innocent of the charge of which he is now being tried.

Ford, in opening, expressed appreciation of the fortitude and self-control of Darrow during the trial of Mrs. Darrow's faithfulness to her husband, and of the defendant's confidence in Bert H. Franklin and John R. Hartington, the principal witnesses against him.

"But," said Ford, "mostly I pity Darrow because gifted with such a fine mentality, he glooped to a crime so low, and was here to administer justice."

Makes Impassioned Plea.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 6.—"They would send me to the penitentiary because I am an enemy of the law."

This was the plea today of Clarence Darrow as he renewed his arguments for an acquittal at the hands of the jury trying him for a second time on charges of having bribed a juror in the trial of the McNamara brothers, for whom he was chief counsel.

Many women wept as Darrow pleaded for his liberty before a crowd even larger than last night's.

"I'd die before I would ask mercy of the gang of brigands who have been seeking my blood. I can still fight," continued Darrow, shouting at the array of witnesses who had testified against him.

"I followed my duty as a lawyer and

BRYAN TO STAY IN CABINET, HE SAYS

WASHINGTON, March 6.—What Secretary Bryan had to say about tenure of office in his first talk with officials of the state department referred only to those officials, and not to the secretary himself. This was made plain by Mr. Bryan today, when it was suggested that his words might be construed to mean that he did not expect to remain long in the cabinet.

He explained that the mention of his tenure was merely a joking reference to the fact that his appointment had not been confirmed by the senate.

FIRE LIEUTENANT'S CHILD IS INJURED IN PUTTING OUT BLAZE

While trying to extinguish a gasoline fire yesterday afternoon, in the manner his father had instructed him, Clyde Losey, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Losey, 449 West Columbia street, was so severely burned about the hands, face and chest that his condition last night was reported as critical. The boy's father is lieutenant of Station No. 2 of the fire department.

The boy, with a number of companions, was playing in the yard of a vacant house at the corner of San Miguel and Walnut streets, when some of the boys found a gallon of gasoline. They poured this in several tin cans and touched a match to the oil. Young Losey came around the corner of the house just in time to see the blaze, and remembering his father's warnings about fire, started to scatter the cans, when one of the other boys kicked a

WERE GIVEN NO PROTECTION Boy Scouts Praised for Work Along Line of March in Rendering Aid

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Stories of indignities and affronts from the crowds and indifference and laughing comments from the police were recounted today by the senate committee investigating the alleged lack of protection given the great suffrage parade of last Monday.

Women prominent in national affairs and in suffrage councils told of their harassed progress through surging crowds of men and boys, whom the police, they said, made little effort to hold back. Their stories as to the general attitude of the police were endorsed by Read Admiral Van Rypen, retired, and George F. Bowerman, librarian of the Carnegie library of Washington, who appeared as witnesses against the police department.

Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau of the department of commerce and labor, one of the marchers in the suffrage parade, said the few police she saw seemed to be merely "standing in the front row of the spectators."

Many Men Drunk.

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Warren, O., in charge of the Ohio division of the parade, declared that crowds of "youngish men" surged in so close that the marchers could hardly walk two abreast; that "good natured drunken men" pushed against the marchers' lines without restraint by the police; and that the few officers in sight did nothing to protect the procession.

Congress had provided a special act directing the Washington police department to "prevent any interference with the suffrage procession."

In a statement furnished to the committee at its opening, Major Richard Sylvester, superintendent of police, declared his department had given the parade all the protection it could, with the limited number of policemen available; and that the disorder on the streets was due to the breaking of cables along the route, and the unruly character of the crowd.

Testimony Produces Laughter.

Bursts of laughter came frequently as women told of their experiences. Mrs. Upton said there were some elderly women in the Ohio division, and she was afraid a "good natured drunken man" would fall against them.

"So we all hurried and got past and he fell back in Wisconsin, or Wyoming, or somewhere back there," she said.

She declared the police laughed at the scenes and made no effort to help. Mrs. Agnes M. Jenks of Concord, N. H., who had her daughter and other young girls with her in the New Hampshire division, declared uniformed policemen had encouraged the crowd in its disorder, and that she had been so alarmed at the action of the officers toward the young girls that the children were placed in the center of the procession where they were protected by older women.

Frightened at Police.

"One policeman looked as though he was going to take hold of the young girls who were marching with us," she said. "We were more frightened by the police than by the crowds."

Mrs. Correllus, Odenheimer of Jessup, Md., said she had walked the length of the avenue a short time prior to the starting of the parade and that the crowds were then back on the sidewalk. Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker of Washington, one of the organizers of

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

In an unsuccessful attempt at suicide at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the Cruz boarding house, 421 Grant avenue, James Sinnatt, 37 years old, a brakeman of the Colorado Midland, cut his throat and both wrists with a broken whisky bottle. The arteries were not severed, however, and Sinnatt was rushed to St. Francis hospital in Colorado Springs where he was reported last night as having good chances of recovery. Sinnatt had been drinking heavily for the last three days, and was drunk when he made the attempt to kill himself.

A boarder in an adjoining room heard him groaning and on going to learn the cause, found Sinnatt sitting upright in bed. Dr. C. S. Morrison was called and stopped the bleeding until Sinnatt could be rushed to the hospital.

SUPT. BEST REAPPOINTED

Professor E. C. Best, superintendent of the local schools, was recently reappointed by the board to serve for another year. James Greenlee and Mrs. Mary Greenlee were appointed as a committee to draft resolutions on the death of Miss Mary E. Hill, superintendent of music in the public schools. J. J. Murphy presented the school census report to the board, and it was adopted. The salary roll and several bills were allowed.

COLORADO CITY NEWS NOTES

D. V. Brewster has gone to Greeley on business.

Mrs. Alex Tawes, wife of chief of Police Tawes, and who has been ill for some time, is recovering.

Miss Caldwell, 519 Lincoln avenue, had as her guests Monday Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Miller of Groom, S. D., who are on their way to California.

Word has been received here of the death early yesterday morning in Buffalo, N. Y., of Mrs. Margaret A. Wilkins, mother of Frank A. Wilkins, Jr., of this city. Mrs. Wilkins had been ill only a short time. The body will be buried in Buffalo.

Mrs. Wilkins is survived by her mother, Mrs. George Wilkins, and five sons, Frank A. Wilkins, Jr., president of the Colorado Ice and Commission company, of Colorado City. He lives at 204 Jefferson avenue.

Mrs. S. B. Shaw of Michigan, a national W. C. T. U. lecturer, will begin a series of meetings in Colorado City tonight. She will speak on the liquor traffic, the white slave traffic and kindred subjects. The meeting this evening will be held in the Methodist church, and will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Shaw will be here about a week, and the place of her other meetings will be announced later.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The financial campaign is in progress this week and is coming along in good shape. The teams are doing good work, but will need the support of all who can assist in any way. It is hoped to close the week with the desired amount fully subscribed.

The deciding game for second place in the indoor baseball league will be played Friday night, March 14, between the Powell boys and the Leland team.

The fifth number of the Star course will be a lecture by Prof. Herbert S. Hadley in the Burns theater, Thursday evening, March 13.

Superintendent Charles M. Cole has returned from Philadelphia, where he attended the annual meeting of the department of superintendents of the National Education association.

R. E. Walther and party will arrive in the private Pullman "Ideal" on Wednesday from California, where they have been touring the winter. They will spend Wednesday viewing the sights in Colorado Springs and Manitou, and will leave the next morning for their home in Philadelphia.

The smoking of hams, frankfurters and the like is accomplished by our meat concern in Baltimore, Md., in a smokehouse heated by gas, which is said to be a new departure in the curing of meats.

SITUATION IN PHTHISIS SERUM SONORA IS GRAVE

Government Sending 10,000
Seasoned Troops Into
Rebellious State

AMERICANS ARE IN DANGER

Simultaneous Attack Expected on Border Towns Both Sides Prepared

EL PASO, Tex., March 6.—With the rebels of Chihuahua declaring neutrality toward the Sonora revolt, the situation in the western border state today awaited the entrance of federal troops.
Following under the Constitutionalist banner and proclaiming states rights, the new rebels late today not only destroyed the railway north and south of Hermosillo, but cut all telegraph wires, thus enforcing the most effective news censorship from the state capital.
Following the decision of the state authorities to denounce Huerta's national government, groups of state rebels tonight threaten the posts of Agua Prieta and Nogales, on the Arizona border.
Fear is felt by the large American colony at Empalme, near Guaymas, that Mexican gunboats will shell the California gulf port preparatory to landing Huerta soldiers to move against the federalist forces.
The conflict between the new federal troops already in the state and the new state rebels has been reported.

Rush Troops to North.

MEXICO CITY, March 6.—Ten thousand seasoned troops are to be placed under command of Brigadier General Samuel Garcia Cuellar, the former chief of President Porfirio Diaz's staff, and hero of the battle of Casas Grandes early in the Madero revolution, who has been ordered to move against the rebels at the north at an early date.
Two thousand men in addition to those already dispatched are being prepared to proceed to Coahuila to give combat to the rebels under Venustiano Carranza. According to the latest information, Carranza has 3,000 men below Saltillo. His forces are spread over a large territory from Lampazos to Nuevo Leon, which has been seized by 500 of his men, throughout the eastern half of Coahuila.
A portion of his forces have taken possession of La Babiá ranch, the property of General Trevino, now governor of the state of Nuevo Leon. The government is moving troops into Monterrey and Mexico City, where the main body of the Carrancistas are said to be, and is daily expecting reports of engagements at those points.

Orozco Holding Out.

EL PASO, Tex., March 6.—"The matter does not directly interest me," said General Pascual Orozco, Jr., today, when news reached his men below El Paso of the Sonora uprising against Huerta. The former rebel commander-in-chief has received no request from the provisional president to take the field against the Sonora state troops, it was assured that any such request would meet with refusal by nearly 1,500 troops under Orozco's control.
Orozco again made clear his stand toward the provisional government at Mexico City, declaring that he only accepts Huerta in event that the land grant promises of the Madero revolution will be carried out.

As to beginning any combat between the two border-states of Chihuahua and Sonora the rebels, it was said, will remain absolutely neutral. Orozco reiterates his promise that he will keep his forces in indefinite armistice and in relatively their same positions.

DR. FRIEDMANN TREATS FIRST CASES

Results of Application Will
Be Eagerly Awaited by
Medical World

March 6.—The first demonstration of the treatment of phthisis which the visiting Berlin physician declared is a cure for tuberculosis, was given by Dr. Friedmann himself today, in the presence of physicians representing the city, the state and the staffs of hospitals of several cities.
Three patients, two men and a woman, were selected by Dr. Friedmann from 50 tuberculosis sufferers gathered from all parts of the city, all hopeful that they would receive treatment. The woman has been ill three years. Here is a chronic case of the disease, the knee and was the most serious of the three chosen. The two men have tuberculosis of the lungs. Their cases are not beyond the incipient stage, according to the authorities of the People's hospital, the institution where the demonstration was held. Each of the alien patients had been showing improvement and gaining weight since beginning several months ago, the best recognized tuberculosis treatment of the day, it was stated.

Selects Own Patients.

Physicians who were present brought forward a dozen persons suffering with the disease in all its stages. The medical history of each was available for Dr. Friedmann's use. Statisticians had been prepared at his request. The Berlin physician declined to treat any of the cases, however, but made his own selections.

Each of the three who were treated received double injections in the muscle and in the vein. Dr. Friedmann explained to those about him that the first reaction might be expected to be observed after seven days. The patients went to their homes with instructions to return three weeks hence. Dr. Friedmann promised to treat them again at that time. Meanwhile, the medical board at the hospital will have the three under constant observation, and as soon as results are observed, it was announced, a statement would be issued.

Moses Greenbaum, president of the People's hospital, presiding tonight at Dr. Friedmann's demonstration, said that the opinion of physicians who were present was that criticism or praise of the culture and of Dr. Friedmann's methods should be withheld until the results of the treatment were known. He said that the Berlin physician, in his demonstration, appeared nervous, anxious and irritated. He used an ordinary hypodermic needle and made the inoculation in the ordinary manner familiar to physicians.

CONGRESSIONAL PARTY LEAVES FOR PANAMA

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Chairman Padgett of the house naval affairs committee headed a party of members of that committee and their wives and daughters, which left here today for Panama on the yacht Mayflower and Dolphin. The surrender was preceded by a three-day bombardment, lasting without cessation for two days and two nights. Every available gun, including a number of heavy howitzers lent by the Serbian artillery, was brought to bear on the fortress defending the beleaguered city.

New Board and Set of Officials
Chosen — Meeting Held
Behind Closed Doors

INDIANAPOLIS, March 6.—Frank M. Ryan of Chicago, one of the labor leaders convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy" trials here, was re-elected president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers at its session here today.

Other officers elected at the session, which was held behind closed doors, were:

Harry Jones of New York, secretary-treasurer, succeeding Herbert S. Hockins, who is now serving six years in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for his part in the dynamite conspiracy; James E. McElroy of Cleveland, who has been acting secretary-treasurer, first vice president, and P. J. Morris of St. Louis, second vice president.

The executive board will be composed of: Patrick Vaughn, San Francisco; John A. Johnson, Newark, N. J.; E. J. O'Shea, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; and Frank McKinnon of Globe, Ariz.

Ryan was opposed for reelection by J. B. Farmer of San Francisco, but the vote was not announced.

The convention adopted a resolution to raise $50,000 with which to care for the families of the men convicted for conspiracy in the dynamite trials, and also voted to raise whatever amount of money is needed to defend the convicted men in case a new trial is granted them. The families of all the men will be cared for until after the cases have been decided finally.

The next annual meeting will be held in Portland, Me., in September, 1914. It was decided before the convention was adjourned.

DR. WEBB CONDUCTING SERIES BLOOD TESTS

To determine the average number of white corpuscles in the blood of Colorado Springs men and their relative susceptibility to tuberculosis, Dr. Gerald R. Webb is conducting an extensive experiment that promises to be of great interest to the medical fraternity, especially of this region.

The tests are being made by the doctor and his assistants at the Colorado college biological laboratory, and include a number of college men, among which are athletes as well as more sedentary students.

The purpose of the experiment is to determine the relative resisting power to tuberculosis in this region compared with that of other altitudes. No results have been given out, and it will be some time before the tests are completed. The results of the experiment will be read before the El Paso County Medical society.

TUBERCULAR BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

GOES TO SENATE FOR
FINAL ACTION

Radical Changes for Rural Schools Are Proposed in Mrs. Robinson's Bill

By R. M. MCCLINTOCK.

DENVER, March 6.—The bill known as the antitubercular bill passed the house on third reading this morning by a vote of 45 to 12. It provides for the registration of all tuberculars, and for the protection of the public against infection. Colorado Springs has such regulations in force now; this bill simply adds to the whole state what Colorado Springs, Pueblo and other cities have done to protect themselves against the spread of the disease.

Despite the fact that there was an organized lobby against the bill, the "Christian Scientists" appealing to members by telegraph to defeat it, there was a large majority in its favor. Every Progressive in the house voted for the bill. The negative votes were cast by Cantu, Elmore, Ferguson, Finch, Gates (Montezuma), Gilbert, Goss, Philp, Richards, Schaeffer, Sweet, Tait, Vogt and Weaver.

The bill has already been passed by the senate, but goes back there for final action, inasmuch as the house adopted certain slight amendments.

School Changes Proposed.

In committee of the whole, this morning, the senate began consideration of Senator Helen Ring Robinson's new school bill. The bill provides for an entire revolution in the rural schools of the state. In the first place, provision is made for the appointment of county boards of education, to be elected by all the voters living in second and third-class school districts.

The county boards are composed of four elected members, together with the county superintendent, ex-officio. The four members must all be residents of second and third-class districts.

But the bill goes farther than that. It provides for a minimum wage of $500 for school teachers. It makes it compulsory for all school districts paying less than those wages to raise wages to that amount. If, with a 10-mill levy, any school district finds itself unable to raise by taxation the necessary amount to pay its teachers the minimum wage, then the state superintendent of public instruction shall apportion among those districts funds from the general school fund to an amount not to exceed one-fifth of the annual income from that fund.

Nonpartisan Election Provided.

The bill provides that members of the county school boards shall be chosen at a nonpartisan election held on the first Monday in May of each year, each member to serve one year. Senator Hayden objected that the method of election provided in the bill was needlessly expensive, whereupon Mrs. Robinson announced that she would be glad to postpone consideration of the bill for one day, and consult with Senator Hayden regarding changes.

Mrs. Robinson is an ardent champion of the principle embodied in the bill. She was armed with statistics showing the pitifully small salaries paid teachers in some districts. In

Accused Lawyer Makes Impas- sioned Plea for Acquittal on Charges

Darrow's Counsel Protest.

During his long closing address, Ford several times stirred Darrow's counsel to protest by intimation that "there was something wrong" about the first trial of the labor lawyer, which resulted in an acquittal. A half-dozen members of the former jury were present, and when the evening recess was declared they appealed to Judge Conley against what they designated as "insinuations of crookedness" by Ford.

Ford's criticism was made in connection with renewed comments in Darrow's argument that Darrow was guilty of the heinous crime of jury tampering, and that he was guilty of corrupting Leachman, who was likewise innocent of the charges of which he is now being tried.

Ford, in opening, expressed appreciation of the fairness and self-control of Darrow during the trial; of Mrs. Darrow's faithfulness to her husband, and of the defendant's contempt for Bert H. Franklin and John R. Harrington, the principal witnesses against him.

"But," said Ford, "most of my jury because, gifted with such a fine mentality, he stooped to a crime so low. And you are not here to administer justice—you are here to administer justice."

Makes Imposition Plea.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 6.—"They would send me to the penitentiary because I am an enemy of the rich," this was the plea today of Clarence Darrow as he renewed his arguments for an acquittal at the hands of the jury trying him for a second time on charges of having bribed a juror in the trial of the McNamara brothers, for whom he was chief counsel.

Many women wept as Darrow pleaded for his liberty before a crowd even larger than listened to him yesterday. "I'd die before I would ask mercy of the gang of brigands who have been seeking my blood. I can still fight," continued Darrow, shouting at the array of witnesses who had testified against him.

"I followed my duty as a lawyer and

Many Men Drunk.

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Phipps of Warren, O., in charge of the Ohio division of the parade, declared that crowds of "vicious men" surged in so close that the marchers could hardly walk two abreast; that "good natured drunken men" pushed against the marchers' lines without restraint by the police and that the few officers in sight did nothing to protect the procession.

Congress had provided a special act directing the Washington police department to "prevent any interference with the suffrage procession."

In a statement furnished to the committee at its opening, Major Richard Sylvester, superintendent of police, declared his department had given the parade all the protection it could, with the limited number of policemen available, and that the disorder on the streets was due to the breaking of cables along the route, and the unruly character of the crowd.

Testimony Produces Laughter.

Bursts of laughter came frequently as women told of their experiences. Mrs. Upton said there were some elderly women in the Ohio division, and she was afraid a "good natured drunken man" would fall against them.

"So we all hurried and got past and he fell back in Wisconsin, or Wyoming, or somewhere back there," she said.

She declared the police laughed at the scenes and made no effort to help. Mrs. Agnes M. Jenks of Concord, N. H., who had her daughter and other young girls with her in the New Hampshire division, declared uniformed policemen had encouraged the crowd in its disorder, and that she had been so alarmed at the action of the officers toward the young girls that the children were placed in the center of the procession where they were protected by older women.

Frightened at Police.

"One policeman looked as though he was going to kick me or one of the young girls who were marching with us," she said. "We were more frightened by the police than by the crowds."

Mrs. Cornelius Odenheimer of Jessup, Md., said she had walked the length of the avenue a short time prior to the starting of the parade and that the crowds were then back on the sidewalk. Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker of Washington, one of the organizers of

While trying to extinguish a gasoline fire yesterday afternoon, in the manner his father had instructed him, Clyde Losey, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Losey, 449 West Columbia street, was so severely burned about the hands, face and chest that his condition last night was reported as critical. The boy's father is lieutenant of Station No. 2 of the fire department.

The boy, with a number of companions, was playing in the yard of a "cotton" house at the corner of San Miguel and Walnut streets, when some of the boys found a gallon of gasoline. They poured this in several tin cans and touched a match to the tin. Young Losey came around the corner of the house just in time to see the blaze, and, remembering his father's warnings about fire, started to scatter the cans, when one of the other boys kicked a

The parade delirious the street had been closed to become congested. The parade started and the lack of adequate protection had made it impossible then to clear the avenue. It was as though we walked into the neck of a funnel, said Mrs. Baker, the policeman to whom I appealed stood with his arms folded and said "the crowd is doing very well."

Mrs. Walter J. Fisher, wife of the retiring secretary of the interior told the committee of the anxiety with which she watched from the post office building for her daughter to appear in the parade as the crowd now and then surged across the avenue breaking and blocking the progress of the pageant.

Marked Time With "Rats"

Miss Elizabeth Brown, a local teacher testified of the coarse hooliganism to which the teenagers brigade was subjected.

"The crowd pressing against us, would repeat the alphabet count to 10 and sing Rats, Rats, as the marked time," she said.

Miss Verna Hetfield, who rode on the "Old Liberty Bell" float, testified that a man in the crowd caught her by the foot and that she kicked him loose. Another caught her sister by the hand and others rushed in to arms.

Miss Maud C. Gifford of the Wellesley division declared that the police receded upon the crowd.

Miss Patricia M. Street, assistant director of the parade, testified that a drunken man spat tobacco juice in a woman's face when she reached out to push him back from the line of march.

I struck the man across the face, and a policeman took my coat in pulling at me," she said. "I remonstrated. He said: 'There would have been nothing like this happen if you women would stay at home.'"

Boy Knocked Down

Phillip Elliott, a 13-year-old boy, told of being knocked down by a policeman when he was trying to help push back the crowds. Senator Fendexter who marched in the parade, declared on the stand that when an automobile ambulance tried to drive through the parade lengthwise in the presence of the police, he concluded that a deliberate attempt was being made to break up the parade.

Mrs. Jeannette Gallinger, daughter-in-law of Senator Gallinger, and Mrs. Ellen M. Wood of "came that," etc. among others who testified.

The committee will resume the hearing Saturday.

4-YEAR-OLD BOY KILLS HIS INFANT SISTER

NEW YORK, March 6.—When Herman Correll, a policeman opened the top drawer of his dresser, today his pistol was missing. As he started to look for it he heard a shot in the next room. There he found his 4-year-old son, holding the weapon in his hand. In a little heap on the floor lay the boy's sister, aged 18 months.

And Neck. Festered and Came to Head. Scratched and Made Sores. Completely Cured with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

P. O. Box 641, Corvallis, Cal.—"I was troubled with blackheads on the face and neck and was completely cured with Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. The pimples upon my neck and face festered and came to a head. I scratched them and made sores. They hurt and itched. My face was a mass of pimples and blackheads. I used a good many remedies which gave me no relief. I was troubled about a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Three months' use of the Cuticura Soap with the use of the Cuticura Ointment cured me." (Signed) Clyde H. Spencer, Sept. 25, 1912.

RASH ALL OVER BABY'S BODY

P. O. Box 55, Quilicura, Wash.—"My baby's trouble came as a rash all over her body. Then it came out on her head and face in a solid scab. It itched and burned so she could not sleep at night, and it caused a great deal of trouble. Her hair fell out and then I had her shaved off. I used three boxes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and now she is as fair as a baby should be." (Signed) Mrs. J. B. Smith, Feb. 15, 1912.

SENATE REPUBLICANS PUT ON DEFENSIVE

Ask What Arrangement to Be Made as to Minority Appointments

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Progressive Democratic control of the senate was strengthened today in the caucus of Democratic senators. The choice yesterday of Senator Kern of Indiana as senate leader, was followed today by the election of a Democratic organization committee completely controlled by the leaders of the so-called progressive forces.

The steering committee, which is to map out a program of reorganization to determine the entire question of control, was announced by Senator Kern as follows:

Senator Kern, chairman; Senators Martin, Clark, Cavanaugh, Chamberlain, Owen, Gorman, Smith (Georgia), Lea and Thomas.

For several hours the Democrats argued behind closed doors over the minor problems connected with their control of the smaller branch of congress. The routing of Republicans from their commodious committee rooms, the change of employees connected with the senate and the selection of new senate officers had a more important part in the day's discussion than the broader questions of committee assignments and legislative policy.

Patronage Referred to Committee.

All questions of senate patronage were referred to a special committee consisting of Senators Overman, Shively, Johnson, Hitchcock and Williams. The choice of senate offices was put over until tomorrow when the caucus is to be resumed. It is expected that Senator Bacon will be elected president pro tem but there are many active candidates for the positions of secretary and sergeant-at-arms.

While the Democrats were in session, the Republican steering committee, consisting of Senators Lodge, Warren, Nelson, Penrose, Smoot, La Follette, Brandegee, Smith (Michigan), Crawford, Jones and Fall, met in Senator Lodge's office and canvassed the committee lists to determine what positions they would seek for a delegation consisting of Senators Nelson and Smoot was sent over to the Democratic caucus to learn what arrangements the Democrats intended to make about giving minority appointments to the Republicans but no plan had been agreed upon by the Democrats.

TUBERCULAR BILL

Baca county for instance out of 16 school districts 13 pay less than the minimum wage specified in the bill. In Elbert county 28 out of 45 districts would be affected. In Yuma county 60 out of 67, in Kit Carson 78 out of 87, in Washington 48 out of 57. Yuma pays the lowest salaries in the state there are salaries there as low as $36, $30, $20 and even $10 per year.

Mrs. Robinson had an elaborate chart prepared, showing what counties would need help from the state fund. El Paso is not one of these. A levy of $1 million in the El Paso county districts would be sufficient to pay all teachers the minimum wage, whereas a county could secure state funds only in case a 10 per cent levy failed to produce sufficient income.

In reply to a criticism of Senator Adams, that Denver county (from which Mrs. Robinson was elected) had no business telling the outside counties how they should run their schools, Mrs. Robinson replied that one-third of the amount paid from the general school fund for the relief of the poor districts in outside counties would come from Denver, and that Denver would be glad to make this payment in order to better the conditions of the rural schools.

Minimum Wage Bill Passes.

The senate passed, with only two dissenting votes, Mrs. Robinson's minimum wage bill. The two who voted against it were Senators Hilt and West. The bill is not drastic. It merely provides for the appointment by the state labor commissioner of a wage board, composed of five employees and one or two disinterested parties to examine wages in any given industry. Two-thirds of the members of the board must agree on a proper wage, though the commissioner may promulgate any wage agreed upon by a majority of the board. It applies only to women and minors.

The Progressives have, in the house, a far more drastic minimum wage bill. It provides for the appointment of a permanent commission, with power to examine all industries. Its findings would apply to men as well as to women workers.

Senator Burris voiced in the senate this morning a protest against the drawing out of the legislative session. Declaring that, at the present rate of progress, the legislature would be in session all summer if all the platform pledges are to be enacted into law, the senator asked that he be excused for the rest of the session, on March 31.

Lieutenant Governor Fitzgarrald at first thought Burris was joking, and replied facetiously. The Pueblo senator, however, declared he was in deadly earnest, and that his private business affairs would not permit him to remain after April 1. Senator's demurred at the idea of giving a member an indefinite excuse, whereupon Burris intimated that he might resign. His term will not expire until 1916.

Burris is one of the senators who is inclined to be reactionary. It is suspected that his move is a ruse intended to make the legislature hasten its labors, and to strengthen the growing desire on the part of the standing members of both houses to adjourn March 31, no matter what shape the public business may be in at that time.

A French scientist has suggested an international monetary standard which he claims is adapted to all values now in use, the value of the basic unit being 5 cents.

the White house proper. Mr. McCombs arrived first and stayed but a short time, and Mr. Davies did not appear until after the White house dinner was over.

President Wilson confabbed tonight with State Senator Blair Lee of Maryland, Democratic leader of the upper house of the Maryland legislature, the situation in that state in respect to the election of two United States senators next November.

McCombs May Refuse Post.

Chairman McCombs left here at midnight for New York. Friends who talked with him this evening all were agreed that Mr. McCombs would decline the ambassadorship to France offered him by President Wilson, and retain the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee. Mr. McCombs himself said he was not yet ready to make any statement.

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, who headed the Tammany marching clubs in the inaugural parade, will pay his respects to President Wilson tomorrow. Senator O'Gorman made this announcement after a conference with Mr. Murphy. Senator O'Gorman referred to the conference which broke up at midnight as a "general talk." Mr. Murphy characterized it with a smile, as "a social call." He intends to return to New York after calling at the White house.

JANINA TAKEN

by the president, expressive of the gratitude of the nation.

At the close of the sitting the members of the cabinet and the deputies, followed by cheering crowds, marched to the cathedral, where a thanksgiving service was held.

Considered Military Feat.

ROME, Italy, March 6.—News of the surrender of Janina was heard by the members of the large Greek colony here with great satisfaction. The fall of this Turkish fortress prior to the surrender of the citadel of Adrianople in Thrace is especially pleasing to them, as it demonstrates, they point out, the good military organization of the Greeks. It is the general belief, however, that the undisputed possession of Epirus by Greece will delay the conclusion of peace, as the claims of the allied Balkan nations now will become larger.

Was Bloody Conflict.

ATHENS, March 6.—No fewer than 30,000 shells were fired by the Greek guns during the first day's cannonade. Gradually the Turkish batteries at Bizani, Manollara, Sakni and elsewhere were silenced. The Greek commanders, by a feint, led the Turks to believe that their attack would be made from the right. As soon as the attention of the defenders had been distracted, the Greeks hurled large bodies of infantry onto the Turkish left. The Ottoman troops, utterly surprised, fell back in disorder.

The batteries on the heights of Bizani, the mainstay of the defense, had been unable to stand the pelting of the shells and were reduced to complete silence at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Greeks pushed their forward movement during the afternoon and occupied the Turkish batteries on the Sakni and Elas hills capturing all the guns and 110 artillerymen. Then the Greek battalions gradually deployed on to the plain in front of the city itself.

The Turkish flight immediately became general, despite all the efforts of the Ottoman officers to rally their men. Whole detachments succumbed to panic and joined in a mad race into the city. The Greek troops followed in hot pursuit almost to the walls.

With all the defending batteries in the hands of the Greeks and the Hellenic soldiers at the gates of Janina, Essad Pasha, the Turkish commander at 6 o'clock this morning sent messengers under a flag of truce to Crown Prince Constantine of Greece, announcing the surrender of the city and the troops under his command.

The fall of Janina was announced by the crown prince to the Greek war office in the following: "Engima (Greek Headquarters) 6 a. m. The Greek army having occupied the entire left front of the city of Janina and also Bizani and Castriaza, having been surrounded by our troops, Essad Pasha has just informed me that his troops surrender as prisoners of war."

"I will send you shortly details of the great victory of our gallant army. Wild enthusiasm reigned in the streets on the announcement of the news. All the houses were decorated with flags. Excited people thronged the thoroughfares singing the Greek national anthem, while joyous peals rang out from every church steeple in the capital."

WILSON'S INAUGURATION
COST TOTAL OF $73,000

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Woodrow Wilson's inauguration as president of the United States cost approximately $73,000. The expenditures of the citizens' inaugural committee were about $48,000, while the receipts from all sources were approximately $34,000. The deficit of $14,000 will be made up from the guarantee fund of $55,000 which was subscribed in Washington. The joint congressional inaugural committee spent about $25,000, appropriated by congress.

PUBLIC UTILITIES
BILL IS OPPOSED
BY ADMINISTRATION

By R. M. McCLINTOCK
DENVER, March 6.—That the public utilities bill introduced in the senate yesterday, which Senator T. M. Patterson appeared before the committee, arguing in favor of the amendment of that clause of the Burris bill which prevents the establishment of competing companies to any established utility until after the utilities' commission shall have given a certificate of convenience or necessity. The senator joined with Denver corporation interests, also, in denouncing the clause preventing utilities from selling, leasing, or otherwise disposing of their property without the consent of the commission, and prohibiting the issue of stock and bonds without the consent of the commission.

Senator Patterson, through his partner, has been from the first the sponsor for Governor Ammons. Patterson has joined Ammons in seeking to keep insurance commissions out of office, despite the civil service law, and he, like Ammons, has entirely reversed his first position in support of federal conservation, and is now second only to Ammons in the bitterness with which he attacks the bill. Therefore, it is supposed that Patterson, in thus attacking the utilities commission, is speaking for Ammons as well as for his own matters.

Are Essential Features.
The provisions attacked by Senator Patterson are, in all states which have utilities commissions, considered the very essential features of the laws. The Burris bill, to which Patterson objects, was copied direct from the California law. Patterson intimates that the provision in the California law was put there as the instance of the Southern Pacific, in its efforts to protect its monopoly. If so, the object has been defeated, for the California commission has just handed down a decision preventing the Southern Pacific from Pacific dislocation until the Western Pacific is given the same rights as those two other roads to use the Benicia cutoff, owned now by the Southern Pacific.

New York, Wisconsin, Washington, and, in fact, practically every state that has a utility commission, protect the existing companies against competition, unless the utilities commission decides after a hearing, that competition is needed for the public welfare. The provision in the Burris bill, which is objected to alike by Senator Patterson and by the Denver corporation interests, as well as by many people who still honestly believe that competition is in itself a cure-all for poor public service, is a part of all recent utilities bills.

Progressives Oppose Suggestions.
Of course, the elimination of the provisions forbidding the alienation of property without the consent of the commission, or the issue of stocks and bonds, are absolutely essential to any rate-making power. The control of bond and stock issues is necessary to prevent the watering of stocks. There can't be even a beginning of rate regulation if the commission has no control over stock and bond issues.

CHILDREN LOVE
SYRUP OF FIGS
Gently cleanses the stomach, liver and waste clogged bowels

Every mother immediately after giving her child a dose of Syrup of Figs that this is the only safe and healthy food for the child. The child's stomach, liver and bowels are so promptly cleansed that the child is able to eat and sleep as usual. If your child isn't feeling well, or if he is eating poorly, or if he is constipated, or if he is sick, or if he is crying, or if he is restless, or if he is fussy, or if he is nervous, or if he is irritable, or if he is cross, or if he is sad, or if he is angry, or if he is afraid, or if he is lonely, or if he is bored, or if he is tired, or if he is hungry, or if he is thirsty, or if he is cold, or if he is hot, or if he is wet, or if he is dry, or if he is uncomfortable, or if he is in pain, or if he is sick, or if he is dying, or if he is anything else, give him a dose of Syrup of Figs. It is the only safe and healthy food for the child.

Ask your druggist for the name "Syrup of Figs and Elix of Syrup," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, healthy, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

BRYAN HARKS BACK TO SPEECH MADE
13 YEARS AGO IN OUTLINING POLICY
OF STATE DEPARTMENT FOR FUTURE

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Secretary of State Bryan gave to the house today the first official statement to his views on the national position of the United States. He did not go into a detailed discussion of foreign relations, preferring to confine himself to a general intimation of his attitude. For this purpose he used an abstract from a speech he delivered nearly 15 years ago.

The secretary's statement follows: "I do not care to speak of our foreign relations or our nation's position in relation to any particular nation or question, but my views on our national position are expressed in the closing words of the speech which I delivered at Indianapolis, August 8, 1898. The words to which I refer are as follows:

NATIONAL CRUSADE
ON WHITE SLAVERY
URGED BY ILLINOIS

ILLINOIS, March 6.—The national crusade on white slavery, which was organized by the Illinois Anti-Slavery Society, and which has been active in the state since its organization, has today issued a call for a national crusade on white slavery. The call is addressed to the people of the United States, and is signed by the Illinois Anti-Slavery Society, the American Anti-Slavery Society, the National Anti-Slavery Society, and the National League for the Oppression of Women.

MARBLE SUCCEEDS LANE AS INTERSTATE COMMISSIONER

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Wilson's appointment of John R. Marble as interstate commerce commissioner to succeed Franklin K. Lane, was announced today. Lane, now secretary of the interior, was approved by the senate committee on interstate commerce. His name will be immediately reported to the senate for confirmation, and it is expected that the appointment will be confirmed immediately.

SITUATION IN SONORA

of the Constitutionalists to attack simultaneously border towns in Sonora, was reported today to General Ojeda, commanding the federal garrison at Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas. At once work was begun in throwing up fortifications about the border town.

The Huerta soldiers at Agua Prieta number no more than 100, while the new rebels are mobilizing in large numbers in the mountains to the south.

J. J. Rioz, the treasurer of Cananea, at the head of 250 Constitutionalists, departed today with the evident intention of assisting in taking the border towns held by Huerta troops.

Frenches in the shape of a half moon are being dug about Agua Prieta, and brush piled in front of the holes.

Attack Expected.
NOGALES, Ariz., March 6.—Nogales, Sonora, opposite this point, is expecting an attack tonight. Little resistance is expected by the small federal garrison, as the majority of the townspeople are said to be in sympathy with the Constitutional cause. The railway is moving all equipment to the American side of the line.

COST TOTAL OF $73,000

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Woodrow Wilson's inauguration as president of the United States cost approximately $73,000. The expenditures of the citizens' inaugural committee were about $48,000. While the receipts from all sources were approximately $34,000. The deficit of $14,000 will be made up from the guarantee fund of $88,000 which was subscribed in Washington. The joint congressional inaugural committee spent about $25,000, appropriated by congress.

Go and Kill Another, Say's Court When Jury Frees Alleged Murderer

NEW YORK, March 6.—You may go home, get another taxi cab, go out and kill somebody else," Judge Foster of general sessions court told Leon Gerard, a taxicab driver, acquitted of murder this afternoon. "The jury has given you permission to do so."
"Gentlemen," continued the court, addressing the jury which had just given its verdict, "you seem to think that a drunken chauffeur can run recklessly with his machine through the streets and go unpunished. At least, that is what you say by your verdict. But in this case your state of mind, in order to reach that verdict, can best be described as the peace of heaven that passeth all understanding."
Gerard was indicted for the murder of Mrs. Mary Dittbridge, a cousin of District Attorney Whitman, whom he ran down last April.

Commodore Perry's Flagship Is Raised

ERIE, Pa., March 6.—Commodore Perry's old flagship, the Niagara, which for almost a century has rested at the bottom of Misery bay, an arm of Lake Erie, was raised to the surface today. Four huge chains had been placed beneath the hull, which is 110 feet long, and with a grinding and creaking, as though the ice flooring of the bay was breaking up, it was lifted through a huge opening that had been cut in the ice. Pontons were placed beneath the old warship, and as soon as a channel had been cut through the ice, it will be towed to this city. The timbers were found to be in a good state of preservation, and it is expected no difficulty will be encountered in its reconstruction.

PUBLIC UTILITIES BILL IS OPPOSED BY ADMINISTRATION

By R. M. MCCLINTOCK.
DENVER, March 6.—That the public utilities bill is to meet with administration opposition was more than hinted at yesterday when Senator T. M. Patterson appeared before the committee, arguing in favor of the elimination of that clause of the Burris bill which prevents the establishment of competing companies to any established utility until after the utilities commission shall have given a certificate of convenience or necessity. The senator joined with Denver corporation interests, also, in denouncing the clauses preventing utilities from selling, leasing, mortgaging or otherwise disposing of their property without the consent of the commission, and prohibiting the issue of stocks and bonds without the consent of the commission.
Senator Patterson, through his paper, has been from the first the sponsor for Governor Ammons. Patterson has joined Ammons in seeking to keep Insurance Commissioner Clayton in office, despite the civil service law, and he, like Ammons, has entirely reversed his first position in support of federal conservation, and is now second only to Ammons in the bitterness with which he attacks the police. Therefore, it is supposed that Patterson, in thus attacking the utilities commission, is speaking for Ammons, as in all these other matters.

Are Essential Features.
The provisions attacked by Senator Patterson are, in all states which have utilities commissions, considered the very essential features of the laws. The Burris bill, to which Patterson objects, was copied direct from the California law. Patterson insinuates that the provision in the California law was put there at the instance of the Southern Pacific, in its efforts to protect its monopoly. If so, the object has been defeated, for the California commission has just handed down a decision preventing the Southern Pacific-Union Pacific dissolution until the Western Pacific is given the same rights as those two other roads to use the Benicia cutoff, owned now by the Southern Pacific.
New York, Wisconsin, Washington, and, in fact, practically every state that has a utility commission, protect the existing companies against competition, unless the utilities commission decides, after a hearing, that competition is needed for the public welfare. The provision in the Burris bill, which is objected to alike by Senator Patterson and by the Denver corporation interests, as well as by many people who still honestly believe that competition is in itself a cure-all for poor public service, is a part of all recent utilities bills.

Progressives Oppose Suggestions.
Of course, the elimination of the provisions forbidding the alienation of property without the consent of the commission, or the issue of stocks and bonds, are absolutely essential to any rate-making power. The control of bond and stock issues is necessary to prevent the watering of stocks. There can't be even a beginning of rate regulation if the commission has no control over stock and bond issues.
The progressives in the house, where the bill is now on the calendar, undoubtedly, oppose Senator Patterson's suggestions. They will, in fact, probably support Representative Persons' bill, which provides for indeterminate permits, instead of franchises, for all utilities, and, which provides also that any municipality may, at any time, by following out the procedure set forth in the bill, condemn and take over any utility within the city limits. The Persons bill protects a utility in its monopoly, but it also provides that a municipality may at any time condemn and take over that monopoly.
If this provision were to be inserted in the utilities bill, Colorado Springs could, at any time, if it saw fit, condemn any take over and operate the gas, water, sewer, and electric lighting systems. In the same way, the Persons bill would provide means for the settlement of the long-continued fight between Denver and the various utilities doing business here.

CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Gently cleanses the stomach, liver and waste-clogged bowels.

Every mother immediately after giving her child a dose of Figs that this is the ideal laxative and physic for the child. Nothing else regulates the bowels, cleanses the stomach, liver and waste-clogged bowels so promptly, because they so deeply love its delightful taste.
If your child isn't feeling well, resting nicely, eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle thorough cleansing at once.
"When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your child has a stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, congested, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the food, constipated, clogged up waste, sour, stinky food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or sickness, and you will surely have a well happy and smiling child again shortly."
With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of purest Figs, honey and aromatics, it cannot be harmful.
Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.
Full directions for children of all ages and grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

BRYAN HARKS BACK TO SPEECH MADE 13 YEARS AGO IN OUTLINING POLICY OF STATE DEPARTMENT FOR FUTURE

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Secretary of State Bryan gave to the house today the first official statement to his views on the national position of the United States. He did not go into a detailed discussion of foreign relations, preferring to confine himself to a general intimation of his attitude. For this purpose, he used an abstract from a speech he delivered nearly 13 years ago.
The secretary's statement follows:
"I do not care to speak of our foreign relations or our nation's position in relation to any particular nation or question, but my views on our national position are expressed in the closing words of the speech which I delivered at Indianapolis, August 8, 1900. The words to which I refer are as follows:
"I can conceive of a national destiny surpassing the glories of the present and the past—a destiny which meets the responsibilities of today and measures up to the possibilities of the future. Behold a republic resting securely upon foundation stones quarried by revolutionary patriots from the mountain of eternal truth—a republic applying in practice and proclaiming to the world the self-evident propositions that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights in that governments are instituted among men to secure these rights and that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. Behold a republic in which civil and religious liberty stimulate all to earnest endeavor and in which the law restrains every hand uplifted for a neighbor's injury—a republic in which every citizen is a sovereign, but in which no one cares or dares to wear a crown. Behold a republic standing erect while empires around are bowed beneath the weight of their own armaments, a republic whose flag is loved while other flags are only feared. Behold a republic increasing in population, in wealth, in strength and in influence, solving the problems of civilization and hastening the coming of an universal brotherhood—a republic which shakes through and dissolves aristocracies by its silent example, and gives light and inspiration to those who sit in darkness. Behold a republic gradually, but surely, becoming the supreme moral factor in the world's progress and the accepted arbiter of the world's disputes—a republic whose history, like the path of the just, is as the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

This was Mr. Bryan's answer to a small army of newspaper men gathered at the department intent upon learning definitely what changes, if any, the new administration will make in the policy of the new government regarding Mexico, the Philippines, Latin America and the Panama tolls question.
Refers to Old Speech.

of the Constitutionalists to attack simultaneously border towns in Sonora, was reported today to General Ojeda, commanding the federal garrison at Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas. At once work was begun in throwing up fortifications about the border town.
The Huerta soldiers at Agua Prieta number no more than 100, while the new rebels are mobilizing in large numbers in the mountains to the south.
J. J. Rizo, the treasurer of Cananea, at the head of 250 Constitutionalists, rebels, departed today with the evident intention of assisting in taking the border towns held by Huerta troops.
Trenches in the shape of a half moon are being dug about Agua Prieta, and brush piled in front of the holes.

McKESSON FOR MAYOR

NEXT month the voters of Colorado Springs will choose a Mayor and two Councilmen, all of them for four-year terms. It is a mere commonplace to say that the best men should always be selected for office, but in the present instance it is something more than this. The welfare of the City is intimately concerned in this election. There never was a time when the need of placing experienced, capable and trustworthy men at the head of our municipal government was more urgent than now.

The City's finances are in a bad way, and it is necessary to refund water and other bonds amounting to more than $1,600,000. The problem of raising sufficient revenue to meet the growing demands with a stationary tax levy is a difficult one. Indeed, numerous matters constantly arise which call for the exercise of ripe experience and calm judgment, and which if not properly met result in injury to the City's welfare.

For these reasons it is especially important at this time that the voters consider the qualifications of the candidates for Mayor and Councilmen with more than ordinary care. Tried and proven efficiency ought to weigh heavily in the scale, and by this test the present City Attorney, Mr. Charles L. McKesson, is easily the fittest candidate for Mayor.

Mr. McKesson has practiced law in Colorado Springs for many years, and for nearly four years has discharged the duties of City Attorney with high credit to himself and the municipality. We doubt if Colorado Springs ever had a public official more energetic and painstaking, more alert in protecting the public interest, or more given to unremitting hard work than he has been in his present office. In consequence he has handled the City's legal business himself, and the people have not been put to the expense of paying large fees to outside counsel.

Mr. McKesson has acquired an intimate knowledge of every branch of the City government and would thereby enter upon the duties of Mayor without the necessity of spending several months acquainting himself with conditions a fact of added importance since it applies to no other candidate for the place.

It was he who devised the only workable plan that has been suggested for refunding the water bonds, and which is to be submitted at the coming election. He is thoroughly familiar with the condition and needs of the water system, and rendered valuable services in the preparation of the City's case before Congress, which recently ended in securing the desired land.

Though a Democrat in national politics he is non-partisan in local affairs, and his election would tend toward the elimination of partisan politics, in accord with the spirit of the charter. In the four years of his public service he has never once been charged with allowing any political affiliation or influence to affect his course. It is largely for this reason that The Gazette endorses his candidacy, for this paper has for many years consistently advocated the principle of non-partisanship in municipal and county affairs. We believe that all public officials should be chosen solely with regard to fitness, and that their views with respect to national politics have nothing to do with the case.

Mr. McKesson is a strong advocate of strict law enforcement, and under his administration, we believe, there would be no complaint of laxity in the enforcement of the liquor law, or of police inefficiency.

Mr. McKesson's influence has been consistently exerted in support of the various worthy, progressive causes that have engaged public attention in the last four years, and as mayor he would be in sympathy with rational ideas and plans for the City's advancement. He ought to be chosen for the place by a decisive majority in the first election.

A JOLT FOR JOB HUNTERS

WOW! Listen to this:

"The president regrets that he is obliged to announce that he declines his duty to decline to see applicants for office in person, except when he himself invites the interview. It is his purpose and desire to devote his attention very earnestly and very constantly to the business of the government and the large questions of policy affecting the whole nation, and he knows from his experience as governor of New Jersey (where it fell to him to make innumerable appointments) that the greater part both of his time and of his energy will be spent in personal interviews with candidates unless he has an invariable rule in the matter. It is his intention to deal with appointments through the heads of the several executive departments."

Since the days of George Washington it has been firmly believed by at least one-half of the members of the victorious party that the principal business of the President is listening to their pleas for offices. History tells us that inopportune job-hunters worried President William Henry Harrison into his grave within a month after his inauguration, and it is certain that they have made life miserable for every other man in the White House.

President Wilson doesn't intend to go that way. His edict, quoted above, is, or ought to be, final. But oh, what a weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth there will be in Washington! And what a unanimous verdict of hungry suppliants at the pie counter that "we supported the wrong man!"

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL

ANNOUNCEMENT that the contract for the new High school buildings will be let this month is a reminder that the time is not far distant when Colorado Springs will possess one of the finest educational plants of this kind in the West. When the present building was erected, about twenty years ago, it was popularly believed to be so big that it never could be fully utilized, and the Board who authorized it were promptly voted out of office for their forethought.

But it is now many years since the crowded condition of the building necessitated renting additional quarters elsewhere. Profiting by this experience the present Board have provided for a plant of several buildings in one harmonious group, capable of supplying not only the present needs, but those of the future, at least until such time as the City's growth has made necessary not only additional facilities but the location of a building in some other section.

There is no cause for which the people more willingly vote bonds than that of education, and it is a safe conclusion that in this case, as in the past, they will receive the worth of their money.

THE Y. M. C. A.

THE annual report of the Y. M. C. A. shows a membership of 504 men and 227 boys, or a total of 731, certainly an excellent showing for a city the size of Colorado Springs. The enrollment in the gymnasium classes totals 331, and as an evidence that cleanliness and godliness go hand in hand, 2,100 baths and swims per month are noted.

The receipts of the Y. M. C. A. for the year 1912 amounted to $13,388.83, with disbursements of only $153.93 less. For needed repairs and current expenses for the year 1913 it will be necessary to raise $14,000, but the receipts from memberships and rents for dormitories will take care of $10,000 of this amount, leaving only $4,000 to be obtained by subscription.

It is scarcely necessary to dwell on the usefulness of the Y. M. C. A. in this community. It accomplishes a work which can be achieved by no other agency, and it ought to be liberally supported by the people.

FROM OTHER PENS

OFF THE TRACK.
 From the Boulder Herald.
 Both United States senators from Colorado have jumped the track on the conservation issue. Both are lending their tongues to the service of those interests which want to loathe the protective grasp of the federal government upon the public lands. Both have become wedded to the specious doctrine of state's rights which will result not in state control of the nation's patrimony, but in no control or control by vast private interests.

It is idle to say that Colorado belongs to the people who are here now. It is idle to argue that the people who are here now have the right to absorb all the great natural resources of the state. Colorado belongs to the people of the United States, not to the mere 800,000 who are now inhabitants of the state. The thousands and thousands of settlers who are to come to the state must have their rights protected if the future of the state is to be made worth while. The federal government is the best agency to protect the rights of these future citizens, for the federal government is not amenable to the pressure that can be brought to bear on incompetent state officials.

It is true that the resources of Colorado should be developed, but development is a vastly different thing from exploitation. It is far better that the public domain should be allowed to remain as it may eventually be developed in the interests of the largest number, than that it be turned over now to vast private interests which would use it for selfish aggrandizement.

The best interests of Colorado demand that the federal policy of conservation shall be continued, and if the Democracy of the state and of the nation succeeds in overthrowing this policy it will have done an irreparable injury to Colorado.

A DIPLOMAT OF PEACE

From the New York Tribune.
 It was the happy lot of Whitehall Reid to be a diplomat of peace. This was true of both his editorial and his ambassadorial labors, and it was true partly because of circumstance, but also and largely because of personal choice and determination. He displayed this quality early in his career in regard to the nation's domestic affairs. Before and during the Civil war he was one of the most vigorous and resolute supporters of the Union cause, but immediately upon its close he was equally earnest in advocating the establishment of peace in a reunion of hearts as well as a mere political reunion of states. This course he pursued throughout his career, sometimes at the risk of incurring unfavorable criticism and even of alienating partisan friendships, but always unhesitatingly, as the performance of a duty which was to be done without stopping to count the cost.

He went as minister to France at a time when that country was in a highly sensitive if not an irritable mood toward America, as well as toward Spain, and he sought what he felt to be more justice, but what Frenchmen widely regarded as an extraordinary concession scarcely compatible with their national policy and public interests. By virtue of a fine blending of tact and persistence he completely won his point; and he retired from his ministry with a personal popularity in France surpassed by that of no other American envoy since Franklin's time, and with a great and enduring accession of friendship and good will between the two nations. Again, in the negotiations at the end of the Spanish war he was inexorable in his insistence that this country should not merely reap the full benefits of a victory which it had so bravely won, but should assume the full responsibilities of that conflict; yet he was also foremost in exhibiting a practical magnanimity which largely spared to Spain the sting of defeat and which opened the way for renewed friendship. When at last he went as ambassador to the Court of St. James, while he found Anglo-American relations amicable he also found some of the oldest and most vexatious controversies between the nations still unsettled. He succeeded in effecting the settlement of the last of them, on terms eminently satisfactory to his own country; and at the same time he drew the bonds of friendship between the two nations closer than they had ever been.

He pursued the same policy in the no less important diplomacy of editorship. He made the Tribune so vigorously patriotic as to incur from some the unthinking reproach of "jingoism" and "imperialism." Yet at the same time he displayed a temperance and courtesy in the treatment of foreign affairs which led equally unthinking critics at the opposite extreme to charge him with too greatly favoring other countries. In the unpleasant Venezuela incident under President Cleveland he supported the administration as loyally as though it had been of his own political faith, yet he earnestly and incessantly counseled the pacific policy which ultimately resulted in the complete triumph of the American contention. When the Alaskan boundary dispute arose acutely for final disposition he inflexibly maintained the full American claim, which was in the end confirmed; but he did so without the impairment of the cordial relations with Great Britain which he was at that very time promoting. Before the Spanish war his influence was so strong for the maintenance of peace as it was later for a vigorous prosecution of the war, and still later for an honorable and generous restoration of peace.

He was a lover and a promoter of peace, but it was of the peace described in the lines which he was fond of quoting—

"Not like a mourner bowed,
 For honor lost and dear ones wasted,
 But proud, to meet a people proud,
 With eyes that tell of triumph tasted."

In his diplomacy he was intensely and aggressively American, but it was with an Americanism neither complacent under "a certain condescension in foreign affairs nor flinching with the faintest of Jefferson's Brink. He was impatient of the later boastings of a "world power" because he had never been anything less since he became a nation. His conception of the United States as a world power was an adaptation of Huxley's supreme conception of enlightened manhood—a nation that respected others as it did itself.

The Woman Movement

By RUTH CAMERON.

A group of women, old and young, one day drifted into a discussion in regard to how much their husbands told them of their business affairs. Of the four women who represented the older generation, only one knew exactly what her husband's income was; and she was the wife of a man who has always been noted for his progressive ideas.

Of the five women who represented the younger school, there was only one who did not know exactly what her husband's income was. But she was the wife of a man whose work is of such a nature that he does not know that interesting fact himself.

It seems to me that this little incident has a great deal of meaning in it, because it so aptly illustrates the new position of women in the home, or perhaps I should say, the position of the new woman in the home. There was a time when the man who talked to his wife about his business, told her his income, and expected her to plan the proper use of that income with him, was an exception. Today the man who does not do these things is the one who serves to prove the rule.

Even the men who do not approve of women going into the business and professional world, who frown upon the woman's suffrage movement, and look upon too leniently upon higher education for women, are not so dead to the new spirit in the air as to deny their women-kind at least a voice in the home government.

I am thinking of such a man now. He has always been a violent opponent of the woman's rights movement, and yet he confides all his business secrets to his wife and turns over every cent of his salary to her. Thirty years ago a man of his temper would probably have kept both his business affairs and his salary strictly to himself.

There are many women to whom woman's suffrage is the great question of the age. While I believe thoroughly in woman's right to the suffrage and feel sure that we will soon get justice in that quarter, it seems to me that, after all, that is only a small part of the great woman movement—the movement toward getting ourselves recognized as at least the potential equal of men.

And, mind you, by equal I do not mean identical. I realize that the sex differences between men and women are vastly more than physical. They affect mind and heart and character. But I do not believe they are such as to prevent woman from being a responsible, intelligent partner for man, rather than a servant or a plaything.

And so I hail with joy every new sign—even so slight as one as that I chronicle today—that women are being admitted to their proper position.

The Violin

By GEORGE FITCH,
 Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

The violin is the most aesthetic and soulful of all musical instruments. It is made of strips of thin wood glued together into a box and filled with spirits of love, sorrow, joy, passion, religion and inspiration of the feet.

The violin also has a neck made of wood, on which strings made of catgut are stretched. When these strings are scraped with a bow fitted with hairs from a horse's tail, melodies are produced which cause women to weep and strong men to look into their hats and resolve to be kinder to the poor henceforth.

"Greatest educator of the feet."

Of all the feats of man, his greatest has been to make music out of a cat or a horse's tail. If he can do this, there seems to be no reason why he should not, some time, make good aldermen out of American citizens.

Colins are very difficult to make. To play the violin one must place his fingers on the strings in such a way as to produce the various notes by shortening the strings, and must then draw the bow across the sounding board with a firm, light touch or otherwise as the case may be. This takes from 10 to 150 years to learn, according to the ability of the pupil. The average is about 95 years, though most people who play have not practiced over 15 years.

A person can learn to fiddle on a violin in six months, however, and in a year or two years can earn good wages playing for dances and house parties. The fiddle is the greatest educator of the feet, and a good fiddler can keep three-quarters of the feet in a large room in the air at the same time.

FRENCH ASKED TO MAKE MILITARY SACRIFICES

PARIS, March 6.—An impressive appeal to the people of France to submit cheerfully to the sacrifices called for by the new military bill increasing service in the army to three years was made today when the cabinet submitted the new measure to parliament. The bill as laid before the chamber of deputies was accompanied by a declaration from the ministry expressing the profound conviction that the proposal "must be adopted not only for the security of France, but for the peace of Europe, which depends entirely on maintenance of the equilibrium of the great nations of Europe."

The government admitted that a heavy task was about to be laid upon the French people "whose clear vision and patriotism will undoubtedly overcome all hesitations and all contingencies."

Some exceptions to the general rule are made in the bill. Youths belonging to families of at least six children will serve only two years.

MAHON SCORES EXCHANGE BILL

President James B. Mahon of the New York stock exchange has severely criticized Governor Sulzer's bill to compel incorporation, and he declares that the criminal provisions of the bill are a "shocking perversion of the criminal law." He believes that this feature of the bill was designed to force the stock exchange into accepting incorporation.

THE HASKIN LETTER

CHANGING ADMINISTRATIONS

I.—A DIMINISHING PATRONAGE LIST.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

When, in 1887, Lyman J. Gage succeeded John G. Carlisle as secretary of the treasury, he was overwhelmed by positions, the majority of which were under civil service. Viewing a batch of 1,000 or more applications from those who were seeking office, he declared it seemed to him ridiculous that nine-tenths of those who thought themselves intelligent enough to assist in making the McKinley administration a success, were so ignorant about the civil service laws that they did not know the positions they applied for were under the classified service, and were too indifferent to look up the status of the positions they desired before making application.

The fact of the matter is that the great swing of the pendulum from the doctrine that to the victors belong the spoils to the policy of merit and training, has been so gradual that few people have anything more than a casual idea that such a sweeping reform has actually taken place. Coupled with this lack of realization among the masses of people as to what the civil service really does stand for, is the rumor that the merit system is simply a thing for politicians to hide behind. Many office seekers do not desire to appoint, the while they place in office those who are their favorites.

Many Applicants, Few Jobs.
 Even in Washington where the people ought to know better, there is that general sentiment that this selector or that congressman, or the other cabinet official could do something for you if he wishes, and in spite of the rigid adherence to civil service principles that often has thwarted the sincerest wishes of senators and representatives, and of men high in the executive service as well, the office seeker who fails to land a job always feels that he is the victim of a system aimed more at his undoing than at the upbuilding of the government service. And of these there are many. Even when there is no change of administration the number who knock at the door of the government for a job is large. There are a score of applicants for every office that may be filled without recourse to the civil service examination.

The number of positions to be filled in the government service without competitive examinations is not as large as the number filled by competitive examinations. There are 272,000 positions under the government subject to them. The latter number includes 64,000 clerks in fourth-class postoffices who receive no direct compensation from the government, the 12,000 presidential employees, the 25,000 minor employees on the Panama canal, the 15,000 unclassified employees in the field service, and the 35,000 navy and army employees. It also includes the 3,000 employees of the judicial service and a like number of employees under congress.

System Has Changed.
 The striking thing about the reduction in the number of positions open to patronage is the large number that have been eliminated from Washington. More than 200,000 civil service positions under the government are outside of Washington, as compared with 24,000 in Washington.

It is the common impression that the civil service of the United States is largely made up of people who stood no entrance examinations, but who got their positions under the "spoils system" and then were covered over in the civil service. In many cases, no doubt, this is true. The fourth-class postmasters, 50,000 in number, who have been transferred to the classified service did get their positions under the "spoils system" and were covered over into the civil service happened after each party change that has taken place since the civil service law was passed, and many of the best friends of civil service regard it as a wholly unfair use of the civil service principle. But with all that, before the fourth-class postmasters were put there last fall, 78 out of every 100 people under the classified service got

Vocational Schools
for Children Proposed

The case of a boy, who is being investigated upon reports tending to show his alleged incorrigibility, and who, it is claimed, contemplates the commission of an offense that will send him to the state industrial school so that he may learn a trade, is being investigated by County Judge Kinney, who also is a member of the board of education. According to the deductions thus far, the lad is determined to learn the trade of tinmith, and some time ago refused to attend school. Subsequently he ran away from home—because he was really bad, but because he preferred work to school books—and was taken into custody by the juvenile authorities and placed in the detention home. He is still held at the institution, and in the meantime the juvenile court will try to find a place where he may be apprenticed to a tinmith and still go to school.

Judge Kinney said yesterday that his work as juvenile judge has revealed many new angles to the juvenile problem, and that matters pertaining to the care and education of children are shown in an entirely different light. He believes that vocational schools would help solve many of the problems that come up for solution, and the establishment of such an institution may ultimately result.

FIRE LOSS $10,000

Damage estimated at $10,000 was done to the J. W. Smith greenhouse, half a mile east of the Colorado Springs golf club grounds and north of Nob Hill, by the fire Wednesday morning. The heating plant was destroyed, and all the flowers and hot-house vegetables are a total loss, owing to the breaking of the glass by the fire and the subsequent cold. Department No. 4 responded to the call, but, owing to the absence of water, was able to do little, in the face of the great headway of the fire. An overheated furnace caused the blaze.

Just arrived, 20 new pianos. HILTBRAND'S, 125 1/2 N. Tejon.

PATROLMAN'S HANDS ARE SLIGHTLY BURNED

The fire department was called to 437 East Vermijo yesterday morning at 8:15, owing to a pot of tar which had been placed on the kitchen stove to warm and had caught fire. Policeman A. W. TenEyck, who resides at that number, received a number of minor burns when he carried the burning pot out of the house. No damage was done to the house.

CAMPAIGN ON FOR

MORE MEMBERS OF CHAMBER COMMERCE

At a meeting of the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday evening, a campaign was mapped out to increase the enrollment of this organization. The committee has more than 600 names of eligible members on its books, and a special effort will be made to have them become members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The membership of the Chamber of Commerce now number 700, but the big campaign which is being pulled off will no doubt greatly increase it. It is the intention of the membership committee to hold meetings every two weeks, the next meeting to be held Wednesday, March 12. Ten new names for membership were presented at the last meeting, and they will be voted on in the near future.

The committee which is at the head of the big campaign consists of Frank Cotten, chairman; Tod Powell, vice chairman; H. S. Ashenbush, M. R. Cloutworthy, Fred L. Crissey, Miles Cook, Roy A. Davis, Charles E. Emery, Fred Fairley, Cliff Hardy, A. M. Hill, M. B. Hurley, A. E. Maunier, W. R. McCoy, W. E. McClung, L. C. Perkins, Dr. F. B. Rothrock, E. A. Sawyer, Fred A. Sperry, Willis L. Strachan, J. F. Thomas and L. P. Lawton.

Lauck to Organize Agricultural Club

County Agriculturist W. H. Lauck will go to Rush today, where he will organize an agricultural club this evening. He will be accompanied by John Lennox, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and County Commissioners Van E. Rouse, W. T. Kennedy and B. A. Banta. The people of Rush have been working hard for the last several weeks getting things in readiness for tonight's meeting, and the indications point toward the organization of a most enthusiastic club.

LEECH WILL CONTEST ON

The suit of Mrs. Amanda Leech, appealed from the county court, contesting the will of her husband, the late Dr. J. A. Leech, was commenced in the district court yesterday before a jury. When the will was filed in the county court for probate, several weeks ago, in which Mrs. A. D. Olney was the principal legatee, Mrs. Leech contested and alleged that the instrument was not properly attested. The contention was upheld, County Judge Little holding that, according to the testimony, neither of the witnesses signing the will saw it signed by Dr. Leech, and that they did not know what they were signing. Mrs. Olney appealed.

The will in question bears the date of March 25, 1911, and when this was denied probate, a previous will was filed. The question of admitting it to probate will come before County Judge Kinney next Monday.

Under the terms of the will in contest, Mrs. Leech is given a life interest in an estate valued at $20,000, but is restricted to $300 a year of the principal and forbidden to use any part of this sum for the support of any of her relatives. Mrs. Olney, who it is said was at the Leech home in the capacity of housekeeper, was left a legacy. Attorneys for Mrs. Leech, in their questioning of Dr. F. B. Rothrock yesterday, tried to bring out testimony that Dr. Leech was not of sound mind at the time the will dated March 25, 1911, was signed. Dr. Rothrock said that he had known Dr. Leech for many years, and that, so far as he knew, being his opinion on the last time he talked with him, the latter was of sound mind.

Arguments to have the will admitted as evidence were being made at the time court adjourned yesterday at 10 o'clock this morning.

CORNFORTH FOR MAYOR
WULF IS OUT OF RACE

Senator Arthur Cornforth, who has been talked of for several days as a majority candidate, secured petition papers at the city clerk's office yesterday afternoon.

About the same time, Frank F. Wulff, also regarded as a probable candidate, declared that he will not be a candidate under any consideration, although a number of his friends have urged his candidacy. He proposes to devote his attention exclusively to his business in Colorado Springs and to a mercantile house in Omaha to which he has become interested with his brother.

Mr. Wulff points out that in view of these conditions, he could not, should the people elect him, do justice to the city's business and his own, and that, therefore, he would not be a candidate for any office. Although interested in Omaha, Mr. Wulff said yesterday that he does not intend to leave Colorado Springs.

Arthur Still Unable to Tell How He Was Injured

More than 48 hours after he received severe injuries in the Santa Fe railroad yards, either by falling from the top of a freight car or by being beaten by car thieves, Theodore J. Arthur is still unable to tell how he was hurt.

Arthur appeared at the home of Mrs. M. Kieffer, 940 South Cascade avenue, about daylight Wednesday morning, and asked for a room. He was in a dazed condition and suffering from severe cuts and bruises. Later he was taken to St. Francis hospital, but since that time has not been able to give an comprehensive account of what caused his injuries. His physician said last night that young Arthur is suffering from concussion of the brain, but that as yet there is no appearance of compression, nor is there any fracture of the skull.

AFTER FAKE SOLICITOR

The Publications Service company of Cleveland has written the local authorities urging them to use every possible effort to capture W. Regan, an alleged fake magazine solicitor, who was in this city the latter part of February. The young man is described as being about 22 years old, 5 feet, 5 inches tall, weighing about 146 pounds and having blue eyes, brown hair and a fair complexion. He used the name of Regan while here, but appears to have several aliases. The Publications Service company will pay a reward of $25 for his arrest and conviction.

LEAVES FOR FLORIDA

G. S. Phibus will leave for Tampa, Fla., where he will join Mrs. Phibus, who already is there looking after her father's estate. Mr. Phibus was caretaker of the main intake of the Colorado Springs water system at Ruxford park for more than a year, but resigned his position a short time ago. For more than three years he was foreman of the box and bridge gang on the city streets. Mr. and Mrs. Phibus have considerable property interests in Tampa, and will make their future home there. They have been residents of Colorado Springs for the last nine years.

News of Local Courts

MINOR CASES TRIED

In police court yesterday R. L. McKinnle was fined $5.00 for violating the automobile ordinance. McKinnle was first fined $4, but contended that he should have been given a warning, as it was his first offense. His persistence resulted in the court adding $2.50 in costs to the fine. D. C. Smith was fined $5 for running an auto without lights, but the fine suspended. G. O. Beach and John Johnson were assessed $5 and $2, respectively, for violations of the automobile ordinance; and L. S. Ringer paid $2 for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk. John Noion was fined $5 for intoxication, fine suspended, and C. J. Terigan was assessed $5 for the same offense and committed. Rosy Walters, charged with violating the sign ordinance, was discharged.

Robert and Dorothy Holmes, colored, were found guilty of keeping a disorderly house in Colorado City by a jury in the district court yesterday.

Mrs. Bee McIntyre, charged with obtaining merchandise under false pretenses, was discharged in Justice Gowdy's court yesterday by request of the district attorney's office.

D. F. LAW WITHDRAWS FROM FAIRLEYS UNDERTAKING CO.

D. F. Law yesterday withdrew his interest in the Fairleys & Law Undertaking company to the Fairleys, and in future will not be identified with that firm. The latter, who have been in business here for the last 25 years, will continue as before. Mr. Law has purchased the property known as the Mayor Stillman place, at 124 North Nevada avenue, which now has a two-story brick building on it. He is having plans drawn for a modern undertaking establishment, and as soon as the work can be completed, will open undertaking parlors. Mr. Law has been engaged in the business here for the last 25 years.

What the Press Agents Say

AMUNDSEN WINS HEART OF PUBLIC EVERYWHERE

Not since the home coming of Theodore Roosevelt from his pursuit of big game in the equatorial jungles has the arrival of anyone on American shores evoked such a royal welcome as is now being given to Captain Roald Amundsen, whose modest announcement that he had planted the flag of Norway at the South pole on December 14, 1911, lifted him at a bound into premier rank as an explorer.

That the American public has lost none of its interest in polar exploration is made evident by the enthusiasm with which Captain Amundsen is now being received as a lecturer in this country.

Already his original contract to deliver a hundred addresses has been extended to more than double that number, so that he will be obliged to remain in America for at least a year.

At his opening lecture in New York city, the great auditorium of Carnegie hall was packed with the thousands who had paid four or five dollars for the privilege of listening to his marvelous story.

In Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington the same eagerness to hear the explorer filled the great halls in which the lectures were given. In the former city the demand was so insistent that a supplemental course of lectures was arranged at once—and in the other cities return lectures have been arranged. From all parts of the country there are earnest calls for the captain's services, demands which, in very many instances, cannot be met.

Not only in the large cities of the east but everywhere he has been throughout the country, Amundsen is receiving nothing less than a royal welcome. People want to see the great man and hear his incomparable story.

It is already clear that Colorado Springs will not prove the exception in the long list of splendid welcomes and will greet the discoverer of the South pole as heroically as any.

The lectures which Captain Amundsen will give at The Burns, afternoon and evening of March 12, on his great achievement, will be of unique and memorable character. Never before has one so distinguished in exploration visited our city, and no story that any explorer of modern times has to tell can be compared with his graphic account of how the earth's southern axis was attained. It is needless to emphasize the great educational value of Amundsen's narrative and the desirability of every child hearing it. The children who learn at first hand of the mysteries of the antarctic and see the many life-like pictures shown by the explorer will never forget the occasion or fail to derive a bigger view of the world from contact with this great man and his work. The unusual and great concessions that are made to school children and college students for the afternoon lecture are given elsewhere in this issue.

ELMAN PLAYS THE HANDEL SONATA IN D

Lowell critic, speaking of Elman's playing of this number, were enthusiastic. The critic of the London Times, in reviewing Elman's recital given in Queen's hall, upon his return from his first continental tour, wrote: "The recital showed the art of this popular violinist at its best. Saint-Saens's concerto in B minor was brilliantly played; but the chief musical delight of the concert came in his performance of Handel's beautiful sonata in D. He emphasized by his phrasing the subtle thought underlying the arpeggio theme of the adagio, the unexpected intervals through which it rises to development, and the cumulative power of its expression."

For pure beauty of sound, continued the Times reviewer, the largest was unsurpassable, in spite of the fact that a string broke and he had to change his instrument and begin again. Altogether, the recital showed Elman's powers, as distinguished from his acknowledged skill as a virtuoso, in a stronger light than ever before.

Such praise as the foregoing was only the reiteration of printed critical opinions from the pens of eminent reviewers connected with the daily press of Berlin, of St. Petersburg, of Paris and every other music center of the continent, where audiences permitted unrestrained physical demonstrations to indicate the character, warmth and sonority, and his vast interpretative and rhapsodic resources.

It is to be a greater concert Tuesday night than even Elman's greatest admirers fully realize. It is a great event to have one of the first three, or at most four, violinists in the world visit the city, but it is a greater event to have the consummate genius of the musical world give a program which has brought him his greatest praise.

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

Time It! No Indigestion, Gas or Sourness Five Minutes After Taking "Pape's Diapepsin."

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest or you feel gas and cructate, sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapepsin costs only fifty cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases, then you will understand why dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite, but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranks about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery. Get some now, this minutes, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion. Adv.

MUSICAL STOCK OPENS

NEXT WEEK AT THE GRAND

A sure thing that spring is near is the fact that the first stock company opens next week, Monday, March 10, at the Grand Opera house, Colorado Springs is noted throughout the theatrical world for its success in supporting spring and summer stock companies.

The London Girls musical tabloid stock is the first on the scene this season in presenting one-act tabloid versions of the most successful musical comedies at a very low scale of popular prices. Their first production will be "The King of Alabazon," a miniature musical show, full of new songs and rapid-fire comedy. The program will open and close with first-run motion pictures. Two performances will be given nightly, with daily matinee, except on Mondays.

Two changes of productions weekly, Monday and Thursday.

This new, novel line of popular price amusements is now meeting with great success in all the larger cities throughout the country. The Tabor Grand, Denver, will open March 23, offering musical comedy tabloid productions at the same scale of prices charged here.

As soon as the regular season closes on the Pacific coast, all the first-class theaters of the coast will present tabloid musical comedies. Colorado Springs is about 60 days ahead of them all when it comes to doing things. This will be proven next week. Wise ones, watch the Grand Opera house.

EMPRESS BILL PLEASES

LARGE AUDIENCES

There are two acts that this week have the Empress bill from being decidedly mediocre if not below the standard we have grown used to. The usual crowd of house which greeted the opening show last night approved "Circumstantial Evidence" and its elaborate jury room scene and howled with delight at the rapid fire fun of the veteran minstrel men, Fox and Ward.

"Circumstantial Evidence" opens showing the interior of a jury room after the jurors have deliberated some hours on the almost unmistakable line of circumstantial evidence that will convict the prisoner of murder. The play is relieved by a characteristic poker game, and some other of the jurors with a taste for close harmony. The close in which the one jurymen who has held out for acquittal announces his own guilt and the innocence of the prisoner calls forth a ringing ovation of good dramatic acting by the star of the play, Harry Burkhardt. While not a remarkable act it is interesting and different.

Show-goers of 20 years ago as well as those of today cannot fail to enjoy the two deans of minstrelsy, Fox and Ward. Starting as partners in 1868, this famous team is as well known to our grandmothers as to us. But the jokes and daffydills are not old. Not a bit of a remarkable act it is one straight roar of laughter throughout the act. An interesting curtain is shown with the names of all the famous minstrels and minstrel shows of the past 50 years painted on it. Younger comedians can find much to emulate in the work of these two old timers who are ever young.

The remainder of the bill is not noteworthy. The three Reddies are some good head balancing turns. Jack Ranahan, a youthful individual of indeterminate age, sings some songs. His costumes are far better than the songs. Wallace and Mack attired in faultless evening dress, the evening dress part of which is not unusual on the stage, but the faultlessness which is unusual, sing very well. Such songs as do not "go" with a vaudeville show, but the fact remains that these two young men have unusually good voices.

The five musical Lunds close the show. It is a good act, as good as musical acts go on the S. & C. circuit, but no different from dozens of others. But the people who in the entire bill cannot find something that is worth the price of admission are at any rate, hard to please.

SPEAKER CLARK IS 63 YEARS OF AGE TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Speaker Champ Clark, who is about to have his tenure as speaker renewed, will celebrate his sixty-third birthday anniversary tomorrow. Friends in Washington in the house and senate and members of the national committee presented the speaker today with an oil portrait of himself painted by W. D. Murphy of New York.

ALLEGED GRAFT IN CIVIC CENTER PLAN

DENVER, March 6.—District Judge Charles Butler today declined to call a special jury to investigate charges of alleged graft connection with the civic center project. The charges were made by the Denver Tax payers association.

Judge John Orr of Reno has resigned. He is tired of divorce cases.

DISSOLUTION PLANS

TAKEN UP BY NEW ATTORNEY GENERAL

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Revision of the plan for dissolving the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger to overcome the objections of the California railroad commission, was considered today by Attorney General McReynolds and representatives of the railroads.

No definite result was accomplished at today's conference, and the negotiations will be continued. By the mandate of the supreme court, ordering the dissolution under the Sherman law, the revised plan must be submitted to the district court by May 10, unless a receiver is to be appointed to take charge of the properties.

Robert S. Lovett, N. H. Loomis, Maxwell Evans and W. P. Herrin represented the railroads at today's conference with the attorney general and Solicitor General E. A. Tamm.

Mr. McReynolds, who took the oath of office this morning, occupied practically the whole day considering the intricate dissolution problem.

The new official indicated that he would not make any sweeping changes among officials of his department. He appointed as his private secretary Frank Cole of New York, who served in the same capacity under Attorney General Wickersham.

MRS. LEVI Z. LEITER DIES AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, widow of the former Chicago merchant, died at her home here this afternoon of apoplexy.

Mrs. Leiter was Mary Theresa Carver, daughter of Bernard Carver, a descendant of John Carver, first president of Plymouth colony. She was the mother of four children, one of whom was Mary Victoria Leiter, who was married to Lord Curzon of Kedleston, viceroy of India.

A son, Joseph Leiter who made spectacular deals in wheat on the Chicago board of trade lives here. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

BRYAN WILL RETAIN OFFICE ASSISTANT

PROFIT'S $580,710.79 FOR ELEVEN MONTHS

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Alvey A. Adee, second assistant secretary of state, who has been in the state department since 1877, will retain his position under Secretary Bryan.

Mr. Adee is affectionately referred to in Washington as the "wheelhorse" of the department, and it is said, that few important diplomatic notes of recent years have escaped his editing. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan today decided not to accept his resignation. Stanton Wyvell, a New York lawyer, a Cornell man and an intimate friend of Secretary Bryan, today was appointed private secretary to the secretary of state in place of William Leslie Combs, Mr. Knox's secretary, who resigned to engage in business in San Francisco.

Benjamin G. Davis of Maryland, clerk to Mr. Bryan when he was a representative in congress and lately in the adjutant general's office, is to be confidential clerk to Secretary Bryan.

TOTAL NUMBER DEAD IN GERMAN TRAGEDY, 71

BERLIN, March 6.—The total number of killed as the result of the ramming of torpedo boat destroyer S. 173 by the York off Heligoland was given officially today as 71, including two officers and 69 men. It is stated by the admiralty that most of those did not die by drowning, but were frozen to death while clinging to loose spars after the vessel had sunk. The official account of the disaster states that the destroyer while crossing the bows of the York became unmanageable owing to the terrific seas and was out in two by the bigger vessel, which was going at full speed. The storm made the rescue of the men almost impossible and many of the corpses were not picked up until today.

THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS IN SPORT CIRCLES

Edited for THE GAZETTE by E. E. Overholt

Jennings Counting on Young Pitching Staff

GULFPORT, Miss., March 6.—Two and perhaps three outfielders, four pitchers, one infielder and two catchers—these are the players Manager Jennings expects to get from the score of more recruits now working out. With few exceptions, Manager Jennings is keeping his impressions to himself and he will reserve final judgment on many of the players until after he sees them in actual work against a class A or a major league team.

"The exceptions are Klawitter, Rondeau, Veach, High, Powell and Shanley.

"The Cincinnati games on Saturday and Sunday are expected to give the manager a good line on the abilities of many of his players.

"The Reds will undoubtedly work their heads off to beat the Tigers and make a good start under Manager Joe E. Minker. There is one Cincinnati player who, according to reports from Mobile, is particularly anxious to go against the Detroit team.

"That player is Ralphie Works, the elongated twirler who was turned loose by Detroit last season. Works has reported to his manager and is getting into good shape. Nothing would please Ralph better than to trim the Tigers, while on the other hand nothing would please Jennings more than to have the Detroiters lambast the former Tiger out of the box.

"Contrary to many reports, there was never any real dislike on Jennings' part toward Works. Hugh treated Ralph as a boy and this was something that the pitcher could not stand.

"He wanted to be considered in the light of a wonder, and when Jennings refused to consider him as such, it was too much for the would-be barometer.

"The youngsters have made a great impression on me and I have no hesitation in saying that there was never a better aggregation of recruits," said Jennings this morning. "Of course, some of the players have made a greater impression than others, but I will not pass any judgment on a man until I see him in a real game. A player often appears ordinary in practice and gets at his best in a game.

"There are many players in the American league who do not do their best work in the preliminary practice and it always takes a tense situation to bring out their best qualities.

"There are the sort of players who appeal to me. I do not want men who are brilliant performers in the work-outs and mediocre men in games.

"We may get four pitchers from the four fellows here and it is possible we will get five. A team can never have too many good pitchers. We are certain to get two corking good catchers and I believe I am going to have trouble making selections in the outfielders. We also have some good men trying for infield positions."

SOX WIN FROM OAKLAND, 9 TO 3

OAKLAND, Cal., March 6.—In the first practice game of the spring season, after only 10 days of training at the Paso Robles camp, the Chicago Americans defeated the champion Oakland team of the Pacific Coast league today, 9 to 3.

Renz was in the box for the easterners for the first five innings, and allowed only one hit and no runs. Schalk, the White Sox catcher, lined out a clean homerun in the third inning, with two men on bases.

Smith and Easterly were substituted as the batteries for the White Sox at the beginning of the sixth. Smith walked five men and allowed four hits, off which the Oakland team made its three runs.

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—The second division of the Chicago American spring training squad defeated the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast league, 9 to 4, in the opening game of the pre-season series today.

Fournier started in the hitting line for Comiskey's players, the first baseman getting three hits out of four times at bat—a homerun, a double and a single.

Joe Berger, who is trying for the shortstop berth with the big leaguers, played errorless ball and made two hits in four times at the plate.

JOHN J. MCGRAW

Halts Building of Yale's Big Stadium

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 6.—The stadium committee and the Yale athletic authorities have abandoned all hope of having the new stadium ready by next fall, the announced date, and it will not be in shape to occupy until a year from next fall at the Yale-Harvard game.

There has been a strong difference of opinion which came to a head after the plans for the stadium had been adopted and tentative contracts for the construction made.

The committee originally planned to have over one-half the stadium in the ground and less than one-half above the level of the field. This plan required a huge amount of excavation, but the committee feared with the architects that the foundations would thus be much stronger.

John J. McGraw, leader of the New York Giants, as he appears at the training camp at Marlin, Tex., where the champions of the National league are getting in condition for another pennant fight. When the weather permits of outdoor work, McGraw dons a uniform and practices along with the big squad of regulars and recruits.

KIVIAT IS STAR AT INDOOR MEET

NEW YORK, March 6.—American Patrick J. McDonald, the New York policeman who won Olympic honors last summer, smashed a world's record tonight when he put a 24-pound shot 98 feet 4 inches, the best shot of the indoor season in the world, at the American Athletic Union, held in Madison Square Garden tonight, was Alvin Kiviatt, the Finnish-American A. C. who won the 100 and 150-yard races.

In coming away with the two-mile middle distance events, Kiviatt made a new American record in the 1900 yards of 11:45, shortening his own record of two years ago by two-fifths of a second. An hour later he set a record in the 500-yard race with Tom Halpin of Boston, a close third.

McDonald exceeded his own world's record by five inches, when he smashed the mark for the 24-pound shot tonight. The former mark was made at Celtic park, outdoors, 18 months ago.

Kiviatt, the Finnish long-distance runner, dropped out of the two-mile race after trailing the field of seven runners for a little over a mile. Apparently, he was unable to warm up in the distance, which is shorter than he is used to.

Harry J. Smith, the 10-mile national champion, went cold, also, a lap ahead of the Finn, and dropped out. W. J. Kramer, the former cross-country champion, led the field in the two-mile event, and was never headed.

The American indoor records were equalled in the 50-yard high hurdle by James I. Wendell of Wesleyan, and by Howard P. Drew, the negro sprinter from Springfield, Mass., in the 55-yard dash.

A penalty of three yards for breaking in the final of the 300-yard run, called to hand by Fred Byrnes, Boston, who came within one-fifth of a second of the American record of 35 seconds.

Mr. Corbett Dreams of the "Perfect Pugilist"

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—Mr. James F. Corbett, the former world champion, said tonight, "We find that the public is not so much interested in the fight as it was in the past. A champion of the world must have something to say, and he must be a smart fighter. We must be more in so-called pugilism."

Corbett, who is now in the city, said that he was not going to fight for the present. He was in the city for the purpose of looking after his business. He was in the city for the purpose of looking after his business. He was in the city for the purpose of looking after his business.

STAR LIGHTWEIGHTS TO SETTLE CLAIMS TONIGHT

The full length picture is that of Jack Britton, who meets his old rival, Packey McFarland, also shown in the accompanying cut, at the Garden Athletic club, New York, tonight. Both boys claim Chicago as their home, and a big delegation of Chicago sports will witness tonight's battle. Britton will concede about four pounds weight to the stockyards' whirlwind.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Protest made by Jack Britton's manager over the choice of William Joh as referee for the bout between Britton and Packey McFarland tomorrow night was overruled today by a decision of the state athletic commission, to which the dispute has been referred. The members of the commission decided that there was no good reason why Joh, the regular official of the Garden Athletic club, should be set aside in favor of another referee. The protest, it is said, will be further pressed.

Both boxers eased up today in their training. McFarland did only a short bit of road work for the day. He declared he was in fine condition and certain to make the 137 pounds weight required at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He tipped the scales at exactly that figure yesterday.

Britton, who put in his last day's work at Rye Beach today, expects to concede three or four pounds weight to McFarland. When he weighed himself yesterday he showed 155½ pounds. Many of his admirers who saw him spar yesterday were satisfied that he would enter the ring in his best condition. It is understood here that a special train has been provided to bring here nearly 200 Chicago friends of the two lightweights to see the bout.

DAHLGREN REINSTATED

CINCINNATI, March 6.—The National Baseball commission today reinstated Pitcher Cyrus Dahlgren of the Cincinnati National league team into the good graces of organized baseball. Dahlgren failed to report to Cincinnati in 1912, and admitted having played with a semiprofessional team. He was fined $25.

LIPTON CHALLENGE IS RECEIVED BY YACHT CLUB

NEW YORK, March 6.—Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America's cup was received today by the New York Yacht club. Secretary Cormack so announced this afternoon.

Mr. Cormack declined to make public the text of the challenge or to comment on it in any way. It would be considered by the members of the club, he asserted, before it would be acted on. Whether the members will hold a special meeting for this purpose or would take it up at their regular March meeting, he added, rested entirely with the executive committee.

Johnson May Stop Scribbling Stars

CHICAGO, March 6.—President B. B. Johnson of the American league is said to have a bomb ready for hurling into the ranks of ball player scribes in his organization. It was learned last night that the league's executive was about to issue an edict which would either stop ball players from writing expert opinion for newspapers or stop their salaries.

"It is not the intention to infringe on the rights of the players," said Johnson, "but alleged expert criticism and baseball playing do not mix. I would not mind so much if the players themselves wrote the stuff which appears in the newspapers, throughout the land, but in the great majority of cases the players never see the stories to which their names are appended until after they have been printed.

"These writings frequently have been an injury to the league and if it can be done—I think it can be—no American league players will be allowed to write these criticisms in the near future."

PROBABLE MEMBERS OF NEW RACING COMMISSION

NEW YORK, March 6.—William E. Lewis, a New York newspaper man, Charles Kohler, who purchased Fair Herbert and the other Hilditch horses to race abroad, and Montague Gordon of Rochester, a trotting horseman, are the men whom Governor Sulzberger is likely to appoint as members of the State Racing commission, to succeed John Sanford, H. K. Knapp and James Wadsworth.

No definite announcement has been made, but there appears to be excellent grounds for the something more than a rumor, which started in Albany.

In discussing the chances for racing this year a member of the Jockey club said that the decision handed down by the appellate division of the supreme court so clearly established the rights of the associations that there is no legal barrier to conducting meetings.

Asked if he thought any trouble would arise from a resumption of the sport, he said: "No, the appellate division clearly defines the law and no magistrate could go beyond that decision."

He intimated that meetings would be held at Belmont Park, Yonkers and Saratoga Springs with the associations guaranteed against loss by a fund in which those interested in the sport would subscribe.

COACH COURTNEY DROPS 125 FROM CORNELL CREW

ITHACA, N. Y., March 6.—The most sensational cut in Cornell's crew squad in the history of Cornell rowing was made recently when Coach Charles E. Courtney dropped 125 men from the ranks. He retained 20 varsity oarsmen and 23 freshmen oarsmen out of a squad of nearly 200 that has been reporting on the machines. This is the first cut of its kind that Courtney has ever made in 25 years at this time, and it is the largest number of men that has ever been dropped from Cornell crews.

Mutiny and insolence on the part of some of the minor combinations were the causes of Courtney's decisive action. On account of the barge canal operations in the inlet, which had caused the shifting of the boathouse to a new location, it was found that only 20 varsity oarsmen could be accommodated there when the inlet opens and practice on the water begins. Courtney, however, arranged with the Intercollegiate association to house all of the other combinations, and he proposed to have them row as varsity and freshman candidates, and he coached by him and Coach Horle, the only difference being that they would not be quartered in the varsity crew room. He learned today that a number of the men had been complaining that they had accused him of putting it over on them and of wanting to turn over to the intercollegiate crews. In fact, they accused him of unfair treatment. Hearing of the rumors, Courtney made his cut.

"I will be in a much better position to whip a victorious crew into shape with these few men rather than being handicapped with the excessively large number of candidates that have swarmed the boat houses in past years," said Courtney.

U. S. LEAGUE REORGANIZED

NEW YORK, March 6.—The United States League of Baseball Clubs was reorganized here tonight, with eight clubs in the circuit. William A. Whitman, owner of the Reading, Pa., franchise, was elected president. The cities in the league are New York, Newark, N. J., Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Lynchburg, Va., and Reading, Pa.

The season, it is announced, will start May 10 and close September 16.

Now and here—not then and there—lies your opportunity. The Ford product has been multiplied by two—and-a-half—but the demand has been multiplied by four. If you want one for spring service you must get it now. Don't delay.

There are more than 220,000 Fords on the world's highways—the best possible testimony to their unexcelled worth. Prices—runabout $585—touring car $680—town car $560 f. o. b. Detroit with complete equipment. Catalogue from the G. W. Blake Auto Co., one-half block north of postoffice.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 6.—In response to another shift in speculative sentiment, the market for gold and silver was not large and the movement was limited to reflect little more than the passing mood of professional operators. Traders are feeling their way with speculative developments of sufficient significance to serve as guideposts. In this connection much importance is attached to the first acts of the new national administration. Few important stocks today lost more than a point. There was some profit taking, as well as renewed bear selling on the theory that the long position had been weakened by recent activity covering American tobacco stocks, which, however, was reduced by a rally late in the day. Other tobacco stocks were heavy.

CHICKEN SUPPER—About 250 people attended the chicken pie supper given at Odd Fellows temple last night by the Universalist church.

MRS. AITKEN IMPROVING—Mrs. L. Aitken, who has been seriously ill at Rockford, Ill., was reported improving yesterday, according to a telegram received here.

BROWN IMPROVING—Henry Brown, who was injured in an automobile accident last Friday night, was reported improving last night. He is not out of danger, however.

THE ONLY FIREPROOF GARAGE in this city charges the same or less for storage, repairs, supplies and vulcanizing. Call and see. The G. W. Blake Auto Co. Adv.

NOT KENT HOME—The residence purchased yesterday by H. Howard Brown from E. W. Kent was not the Kent home, which is located at 1311 Wood avenue, but a house he owned at 1715 Wood avenue.

MARRIAGE LICENSE—A marriage license was issued yesterday from the county clerk's office to Palmer J. Rolson, 19, and Miss Jewel K. Cram, 18, both of this city. Parental consent to the marriage was given by Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Rolson.

LAMP EXPLODES—The explosion of a coal oil lamp at 7:20 o'clock last night set fire to the house at 34 West Mill street, occupied by William Lurie. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done. The property is owned by F. C. Kloefer, a pressman at The Gazette.

Hard Candies

40c lb.

The first announcement of a new line of hard candies, cleverly shaped like gooseberries, raspberries, and in round balls, by expensive machinery just installed by us.

They are beautifully colored and in a great variety of flavors, and they are the first ever manufactured in this city. You'll find them especially useful for parties.

Perfect in shape, color and flavor, the raspberries and gooseberries are delightfully pleasing.

Made in the following enticing flavors: Anise, clove, cinnamon, raspberry, wild cherry, chocolate, lemon and mint. Try them. They're delicious.
